AMERICANS ANSWER CALL TO THE COLORS

YOUNG MEN OF THE NATIONAL ARMY GO INTO CANTONMENTS

Second Increment of Selective Service
Boys is Moving Today for Scene of Training Labors.

WILL JOIN 45,000 ALREADY IN CAMPS

Washington, Sept. 19.—Three hundred thousand men of the national army today are on their way to sixteen cantonments to undergo an intensive training period preparatory for service overseas.

Today's increments represents approximately 45 per cent of the total quota under the first call from nearly five thousand exemption boards.

The transition from civilian life to military life was effected with a minimum of delay. In every section of the country the men called by the individual boards were assembled, placed under military discipline commanded by one of their own men selected as leader and assigned to special troop trains, no men were to the mobilization camps. The new increment will join the first quota of 45,000 men called to the colors September 5.

Because of obstacles encountered by the war department in procuring supplies, it is probable that some of the men will be only partially equipped on arrival. No attempt to completely outfit the units for war service will be made until just prior to the departure for France.

Will Be Real Selective. Every effort will be made by the government to adapt the men of the selective draft forces to the branch of military work to which they are best suited by experience and natural aptitude.

To carry out this purpose a corps of civilian experts trained in the service of great corporations in selection of men for special occupations will be appointed soon to make a similar appraisal of the enlisted men of the national army preparatory to the assignment of the men to the special units necessary in modern warfare.

Charts have been prepared to be filled out by the men showing exactly their experience and training and providing also a statement of their previous work to the kind of work they will be called upon to do. If possible these cards will be supplemented by a personal estimate of the men by the civilian experts.

This can be done only after a thorough general classification has been made possible through the card system as it would be too great a task to personally interview every man.

HAS NO NEW PEACE OFFER

WILL MERELY BE A

Another Flare-Up of Political Kind Stirs Russia a Bit.

Amsterdam, Sept. 19.—Austria's reply to Pope Benedict's peace proposals, says the Wiener Allgemeine Zeitung, will be handed to the papal nuncio at Vienna on Thursday and will be published on Saturday. The reply will confine itself to a detailed discussion of the pope's suggestions. The report that it will contain new and astonishing peace proposals, the Vienna newspaper adds, is absolutely at variance with the facts.

ANOTHER RUSSIAN FLARE-UP.

Petrograd, Sept. 19.—In view of the resolution of the maximalists, which was vetoed by a session of the Petrograd council of soldiers' and workmen's delegates, demanding that power be assumed by the council, the whole bureau of the council has re-

"There was nothing of special interest to report."

GERMAN CITIES BOMBED.

Each Camp and Cantonment

The President, the Colonel

Contribute.

Washington, Sept. 19.—Plans for publication of a soldiers' weekly newspaper in every national army and national guard camp beginning with the week of September 30, under the auspices of the national war council of the Y. M. C. A. are announced here today by John Stewart Bryan, publisher of the Richmond News-Leader, who arranged the details of co-operation among many other publishers which will make the work possible. Among contributors will be Col. Roosevelt and many of the best newspaper writers and cartoonists.

Endorsed by President. President Wilson has endorsed the plan. The general management will be under the personal direction of Mr. Bryan and the co-operating publishers will compose an advisory board. The plan grew out of a conference in Washington last July at which Mr. Bryan was assigned by the war council to visit all cantonments in the south.

BELGIUM MUST BE MADE FREE SAYS BERLIN JOURNAL

Amsterdam, Sept. 19.—Vorwaerts, the socialist organ of Berlin, holding that the complete restoration of Belgium is corollary to the reichstag resolution, declares: "Whether the German government remains deaf thereto, it is not only a question of power or policy but justice and conscience. No policy is truly wise that disregards the moral and legal factors in the life of nations. Despite the howling of the matted fist politicians, we affirm that right is right and that Belgium has the right to its independence."

His temperature is slightly lower and his heart action better.

NO PARADE IS TO BE GIVEN

Executive Committee of Patriotic Council Makes Announcement.

BOYS LEAVE AT DIFFERENT TIMES

Printed Address Will Be Handed to Each of 200 Conscripts.

Following a meeting of the executive committee of the council of patriotic service, together with the members of the conscription boards and parade committee, it was announced that no parade or speaking would be given for the two hundred members of Uncle Sam's new army who leave Friday morning for Camp Taylor, Ky. Each of the boys, however, will be handed a speech of farewell, which is to be prepared for the printers at once.

A farewell demonstration was given for all the members of the new army some time ago, and inasmuch as they will not all leave at the same time Friday, it was thought best not to attempt a demonstration such as was given to the various units that have already gone.

Plans were discussed for a big meeting next Tuesday evening for the purpose of arousing greater activity and interest in the work of the patriotic council.

Members of the new army from districts two and three will leave over the G. R. and I., and those from the country district and district No. 1 will be provided with a special train over the L. E. and W.

From District No. 1.

Those who will make up the quota from district No. 1 follow:
James G. Degree, William F. Boedeker, Robert L. Young, Frank Swanton, Carl L. Briel, Paul J. DeWold, Mortie Turner, Walter W. Burlage, Elbert W. Williams, Ansel S. Papas, Henry A. Dirke, Samuel J. PAIR OF GERMAN U-BOATS SUNK BY GUNS OF BRITISH

Copenhagen, Sept. 19.—Two German submarines have been sunk by British naval forces, reports the Bergen correspondent of the Tidnings Tegn. Six men from the U-boats were taken prisoners. An armed British steamer in the North sea sank a German submarine which was shelling a neutral sailing vessel. The second submarine was sunk by a British torpedo boat destroyer while attacking an armed steamer.

HOPING TO END STRIKE

Washington Officials Get a Flash of Hope in Frisco Fight.

GOVERNMENT AND LABOR CONFERRING

Efforts in San Francisco to Conclude the War Have No Results.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 19.—Labor department officials today expressed the opinion that there "is some prospect of adjustment soon" of the shipbuilders and iron workers' strike at San Francisco.

Their estimate was based largely, it was said, upon a telegram received from Mr. Boyce at San Francisco, who is acting as conciliator. Mr. Boyce reported conferences last night and that he expected to resume them today.

Urgent suggestion from the American Federation of Labor, however, that the entire Pacific coast should be considered a unit in determining wage scales for shipyard employees dimmed the hope of shipping board officials of settling independently the strike of ironworkers at San Francisco.

Consequently the shipping board devoted more attention to solution of the difficulty arising out of a Seattle company's action in granting high union wage demands. Chairman Hurley, of the board, considered postponing his trip to the coast until he could confer with the general manager of the Seattle company due to arrive here.

CROWDS IN TOWN TODAY

Suburban Day Throngs An-

FIRST BIG TRADE

Many Visitors Enjoy Ball Game and Theaters This Afternoon.

Bright skies and splendid means of travel brought thousands of "suburbanites" to Fort Wayne today to participate in the enjoyment and material benefits of the city's first great Suburban Trade Day. The immediate success of the project, has turned the attention of the members of the association to preparations for next Wednesday, the second of the series of out-of-town trade days, and it is very probable that the second day will eclipse the first in point of real "specials" and the crowds who will come to take advantage of them. These specials will be fully announced in the columns of the newspapers, and the friends in other cities and in the farming districts are asked to keep a close "tab" on them.

While the larger portion of the visitors this afternoon are in the stores, taking advantage of the day's special offerings and becoming acquainted with the salespeople, other crowds are enjoying the exhibition baseball game at League park, between the famous Cincinnati Reds, headed by Christy Mathewson, and the Fort Wayne

Smith registered by mail. The only opportunity he has of getting permission to remain with the escadrille it was stated in a special ruling by Provost Marshal General Crowder at Washington.

DEPARTURE OF TROOPS THE OCCASION

Chicago, Sept. 19.—Mayor William Hale Thompson, whose opposition to sending troops to France aroused comment all over the country, today issued a proclamation occasioned by the departure of selected men from Chicago to the Rockford cantonment.

In the course of the preamble he says:

"Whereas, it is the duty of all patriotic citizens to stand by our country in times of controversy with any other country and to show in an unmistakable way that the American people stand behind the army and the navy which represent the majesty of our government—

He calls upon citizens of the sixth German city, as he labelled Chicago some time ago, to show soldiers and sailors we are united in a common love for the blessings of our free government.

Summary of the Day's War News

Rumania's army is continuing its activity on the Moldavian front and has won another success. Petrograd reports the occupation by Rumanian troops of a Teutonic position on a height near Grozecht.

The Russian front proper is comparatively quiet, neither side apparently being engaged in any important operations.

Reports from the British front in Flanders continue to mention only raids and artillery and airplane activities. Notwithstanding that virtually all the recent London official statements have been similarly lacking in records of major operations, the British casualty lists disclose there has been heavy fighting. Casualties on all fronts during the week ended yesterday, for instance, totalled more than 27,000, of which the killed numbered 4,890.

Point is given these facts by the recent reports that despite the laconic

MEMBER OF FRENCH CHAMBER IS FACING A TREASON CHARGE

Paris, Sept. 18.—Tuesday.—The procurator general of the appeal courts has addressed a communication to parliament asking for the suspension of immunity in the case of Deputy Louis Turmel. The chief procurator points out that Deputy Turmel gave three different explanations concerning the origin of the money found in his locker and further remarked that M. Gilbert, charged with investigation, twice served a subpoena on Turmel yesterday, but the latter ignored the summons under circumstances from which it is permissible to presume that Turmel's dealings in Switzerland, given by him as the source from which he drew the money that was found was of a fraudulent nature coming under the law prohibiting French citizens carrying on economic relations with enemy subjects.

It is understood that the judicial authorities did not at first intend to prosecute Deputy Turmel. They desired first of all to obtain a sworn statement from him and to do this a charge was laid against "X" of trading with the enemy in connection with ings with Turmel.

BANK DENIES IT.

Berne, Sept. 18.—The Swiss Telegraphic Agency has received a telegram from Zurich relative to a statement made by the French Deputy Turmel that he received a sum of money from the Swiss Federal bank for advice. The directors of the Swiss Federal bank, according to the telegram, declare that they never made any such mysterious payments to any one whatsoever and have never had any dealings with Turmel.

GREAT PROGRAM OF RECREATION IN ARMY CAMPS

Washington, Sept. 19.—The biggest recreational program ever staged in America, a continuous performance to last for the duration of the war, with an annual supporting fund of at least $14,000,000, started today at the sixteen national army cantonments.

The country's best theatrical talent has been mobilized under the direction of Mark Klaw, to give free entertainments for the soldiers. The government activities were organized and the commission training camp activities appointed by Secretary Baker, with Raymond D. Fosdick as chairman.

Co-operation of the largest recreational, educational and social service organizations in the country have been obtained. They include the Y. M. C. A., which appropriated $4,000,000; the Knights of Columbus, who have raised $2,500,000; the Playground and Recreational Association of America, which appropriated $3,500,000, and the Library Association of America, which is to provide libraries in all the cantonments from a fund of a million dollars. For a canteen service in the camps a fund of $1,500,000 has been set aside.

The Y. W. C. A. has arranged for hostess house in each cantonment, with Miss Katherine Scott, of the national council of the Y. W. C. A., director of the work. The athletic work within the cantonments has been arranged by Jos. E. Rayeroff, athletic director at Princeton university, assisted by Malcolm L. McBride, former Yale football star. Boxing and swimming, inter-brigade base ball games, basketball, contests and inter-regiment bayonet drills will be features of this work.

Leo F. Hamner, formerly of the recreation division of the Russell Sage foundation, is in general charge of the organization of the camp libraries and theatricals. Song leaders, chosen on account of experience in college glee clubs, or as choir leaders, have been appointed in each camp.

Jos Lee, president of the Playground and Recreational Association of America, has organized the entertainment activities in communities surrounding the camps. This work has been carried on during the last two months by 45 trained organizers. The assistance of churches, societies, clubs, fraternities and community organizations has been obtained. Sixteen big theaters are now nearing completion and thirty-two large circus tents are already up at the national army and national cantonments.

part follows: "I think we are a long ways from the end of the war. I think America is finding it a little difficult to realize—just as Great Britain in the early days of the war—that it is a long way between declaring war and putting your whole back into it; and that both determination and sacrifice are called for if the nation is going to acquit itself with credit, but I have no doubt at all that eventually America will do so."

"President Wilson is a great man and realizes what is wanted, and when the nation understands, as it does not yet understand, I have no doubt it will respond."

"It is a disadvantage which all democratic and peace loving people who have never planned for a big war, such as Great Britain and the United States, suffer from, that they realize slowly what war means. We realized it slowly even with the help of our heavy casualties in our small army in August, 1914, perhaps with the national imagination to help them, which is much stronger with you than with us, America may realize it more quickly."

WORLD SERIES COMING.

FITTS GIVES FITS TO GERMAN AGENTS

The Man Who Dug Up the I. W. W. Stuff for Uncle Sam Well Named.

(Staff Special.)
Washington, D. C., Sept. 19.—"Chief," said some one to Attorney General Thomas Gregory, "I think it is time to put a stop to this I. W. W."

WILLIAM C. FITTS.

plotting against our government and its war-making powers. We ought to give them fits."

"All right," said Gregory, "let's give them fits." He did. He called in William C. Fitts, assistant attorney general, and Fitts did the rest. He started machinery in motion which resulted in a study of the I. W. W. agitation all over the country. Then he ordered wholesale raids upon I. W. W. headquarters in various states, seizure of their papers and arrest of their chiefs. He will be in charge of the prosecutions in case indictments are returned by federal grand juries.

Fitts is a kindly-faced, genial Alabamian who is a democrat as well as a Democrat. There is no side to him. He is just a busy lawyer working for Uncle Sam, always to be seen when there is legitimate excuse to see him. Although his thinning hair is gray and his nose high, the nemesis of the I. W. W. is only 51 years old. He was educated at the Southwestern Presbyterian university at Clarksville, Tenn., taking his law degree in the University of Alabama. Before coming here he had only held two offices, attorney general of Alabama from 1895 to 1900 and member of the Alabama constitutional convention in 1901.

Tax Levy at Portland Will Be Reduced.

Portland, Ind., Sept. 19.—The Portland city tax levy proper, will be five cents less in 1918 than that paid in 1917, as shown by the taxing ordinance passed by the city council at the regular Monday night meeting. The total levy for the coming year is $1.27 on each $100 taxable property, not including the city library levy which is made by the library board proper. The levy for the maintenance of the library has been eight cents on the $100 in 1917 but it is understood that increased cost of books and coal necessitates an increase of this levy and the board contemplates making it ten cents for 1918. Granting that this is increased the amount contemplated it would bring the total city tax up to $1.37, or three cents lower than at present as the total city levy including the library tax is now $1.40 on the $100 taxable property.

PROVOKE CHARGE DISMISSED.

Woodburn, Ind., Sept. 19.—On motion of Prosecuting Attorney Frank A. Emrick, the provoke charge preferred by Marshal Ray E. Cairns against William Gernhart, sr., a former justice of the peace, was dismissed at a hearing here last evening. The two men had disagreed in an argument Sunday. The trouble arose over a juvenile case in which William Gernhart, jr., 15, son of the former justice, and Carl Winn, a boy of about the same age, were charged with stealing rabbits. Judge Eggegan had told Cairns to find out which one of the two boys was telling the truth. He was engaged in questioning young Gernhart in Lewis Gale's restaurant when the former justice and father of the boy came in. The father ordered the officer to stop questioning the boy and accused him of being "crooked." The marshal placed Gernhart under arrest. After the prosecutor had given Gernhart a severe lecturing the charge was dismissed.

HUNTING FOR BROTHER.

Decatur, Ind., Sept. 19.—A sister of Tom Shannon, one time well known character here, came down from Allen county yesterday to get some trace of her brother, who is one of the heirs to an estate. He has been gone eight years during which time they have had no word from him. She found parties here who believed he was living in a shack on some ground that he purchased eight years ago along the reservoir near Celina, O., and she tried to get into touch with parties there who might know him. Shannon is about 65 years of age and was the "black sheep" of the family and when he lived here he was a frequent inhabitant of the jail. His family severed contact with him but must learn of his whereabouts in order to settle the estate of a relative.

FIRE AT WARSAW.

Warsaw, Ind., Sept. 19.—A small fire in the basement of the home of Mrs. Isabel Dautenspeck, on South High street, occurred Tuesday morning at 3:15 o'clock. Mrs. Dautenspeck, being alone in the house, was aroused and alarmed by smoke coming from the basement and not knowing the cause or extent of the fire, sent in a call to the fire department. On investigation, it was discovered a few sticks of wood in the furnace room had caught, presumably from ashes on the floor, and had caused quite a bit of smoke which gave the appearance of a pretty big fire. The fire was soon extinguished and no damage was done.

Elaborate preparations for the event had been made, including the preparation of hundreds of floats in which the patriotic theme was dominant. Large delegations of Odd Fellows from nearly states began to arrive here early in the day to take part in the parade and they continued to come in in a continual stream throughout the morning. Hundreds of others from distant points came last night.

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 19, 1917.

THE CITY MARKET PLACE.

The Fort Wayne public market has been gaining a deal of attention lately, but none too much. Indeed, it has had for some years too little attention of the sort just now bestowed upon it. Conditions that today provoke loud complaint have been noted for some years and differ merely in degree, not in kind, from conditions that quite awhile since had become an irritation.

The city market is a venerable and historic institution in Fort Wayne. It was established for a useful purpose that through a long period served precisely the need in exactly the way the circumstances of the times required. There was open and genuine competition in selling and buying and a trip to the public market was to good purpose and of substantial consequence. The established provisioners of the town were neither so numerous nor so well stocked as in this day and made little pretense of supplying what the open market, maintained for the mutual advantage of producers and consumers, had to offer. Today there is quite a different status of the provision business in respect of this. Grocers specialize in the fresh produce of the soil. A staple grocer is also quite as much a green grocer. So it now is that provision stores and the vendors contrive somehow to keep their produce on the same price levels that prevail in the groceries. There is no saving, no profit and little satisfaction of other sort—as for instance the surety of obtaining fresher green or other produce—on the market nowadays. For some years it has been noted that what was purchased on the market cost just about what similar things could be purchased for of the grocer. Added to absence of this advantage is the fact of certain disadvantages. The market must be visited that its offerings may be availed of. Your grocer serves you quite faithfully and much to your convenience when you use the telephone. He delivers your purchases. He advances you credit for a week or a month and frequently longer. This may be a bad thing for him and no good thing for you, but they are the almost universal practice and you like the way of it and are willing to pay for it, for of surety you do pay for it, as you must for any kind of service rendered you in a business transaction. The market affords you none of the conveniences, lazy luxury and habitual accommodation that the telephoned order, prompt delivery and unquestioned credit that are vouchsafed by your relations with your grocer and the market does not give you any advantage of price.

Why have a market if this be true? Why make a journey to market, paw for an hour or two over the already well-pawed stuff in a half mile of stalls, pay the current city prices, spot the cash and tote your load home yourself if you gain nothing from it? We don't know. Do you? The city market used to be a place of bargaining and bargains. It has ceased to be anything of the sort. The prices there are in some respects exorbitant. Yesterday tomatoes sold on the city market for two dollars a bushel, while thirty miles away they could be bought for seventy-five cents in almost any quantity. Tomatoes can be cultivated at no greater cost here than in the next county. Does a haul from just beyond the rim of the city to the public market fairly represent the difference between seventy-five cents and two dollars—or two dollars and a half, which price obtained here a short time ago?

The city has invested some thirty thousand dollars in market houses that occupy real estate easily worth one hundred thousand dollars. The fundamental purpose of such a public institution is public benefit. The benefits to the buying public of this city seem to have vanished entirely. The market is maintained at a trouble and cost for which the stall rentals and market fees are a poor compensation. It more than once has been suggested that if the market is to be gone on with indefinitely as it has been in recent years with its sorry little conspiracies in restraint of trade and its palpable price-fixings and entire absence of advantages to them whose patronage are its excuse for being at all, we are not prepared to deny that there is sense and force in the suggestion.

THE DOER OF A GOOD WORK DEAD.

There has just died in this state a man who, without posing as a public benefactor, was nevertheless the author of a great benefaction and who, with no pretense that he was a philanthropist, at the same time established what has proved a great philanthropy.

Dr. Henry Baker Brown, founder and for almost forty-five years the active head of Valparaiso university, at Valparaiso, has passed away at the good age of 70, leaving as the monument of his life's effort one of the greatest schools in this country or any other. Valparaiso university may perhaps not rank with Yale or Harvard or Princeton or Johns Hopkins or Michigan and some others of America's great seats of learning in respect of the depth and finish of its work, but it is, notwithstanding, an excellent school and its enrollment is surpassed by only two or three institutions in the country. Its great merit throughout its history has lain in the fact that at a very low cost it put a sound, practical education within the reach of tens of thousands of young men and women with no resources but determination and ability to work. It was launched by Dr. Brown in 1873, as we recall, and began its work as a normal school, devoting its effort specially to the training of teachers. It has been developed into a university that prepares its students specially for many lines of endeavor.

It is interesting and instructive to understand that Valparaiso university is not a public or an endowed institution. It is sustained by the tuitions of its matriculates. To reflect that these tuitions have been greatly distinguished by their moderateness and that the university has not merely thrived upon them but has grown to be a vast institution with a large assemblage of expensive structures to house it and with a very large staff of teachers and an enrollment of something more than five thousand students is to get some understanding of the executive ability devoted to its management and an appreciation of the solid, useful character of the instruction it has imparted. An institution that did not put its students in the way of getting along in the world, of achieving useful careers and of contributing greatly to the general good never could have flourished and prospered and come to the magnitude and good repute that are the facts of Valparaiso.

This is said not by way of advertising Valparaiso university, though it surely is welcome to any good these humble words may do it, but as a merited tribute to the memory of a really great man who established a great institution of learning and wrought a most good work in the world. The fact of an institution where little money procured a great deal for the education and training of many thousands of useful men and women has been of some consequence in the life of today. Near half a century ago Dr. Brown, then a young Ohio school teacher, came to Indiana, bringing with him something like half the body of his first matriculates and opened the Valparaiso normal college. He had in his mind a big idea to try in a practical way. He began almost wholly without means. He died a day or two ago wealthy and leaving a vast school that in many ways is unique and in all ways is useful.

Prof. Scott Nearing has just been informed by a pizen minion of the law bearing a thoroughly Teutonic name that they don't want a doggone bit of him and his kind in Cincinnati, have interdicted his speech in that town and forbidden the owner of the hall where he was billed to light up for him on any account. Cincinnati's director of public safety may have a Teutonic name, but he's got a sturdy American spirit and doesn't use a great many words making clear that there will be no anti-government noise-making in the Queen City.

The kaiser has posted a reward of three hundred marks and a nice vacation to the German soldier who brings in to him the first American prisoner of war. He will doubtless be shocked to discover if many are fetched to the sublime presence what a whaling lot of them can hand the conversation right back to him in the choicest phrasing of his own tongue.

Kerensky is said to have just made himself the husband of an actress. The peerless Alex probably just wants to show Trouble how far he can go.

Russia as a republic sounds better and will be better if the people will begin to live up to the name of their political form.

The trouble with the Fort Wayne city market is the same trouble that afflicts much bigger business far and wide.

COMING BACK.

The recent successful voyage of coal-laden barges up the Mississippi river to St. Paul, the promised shipments of ore cargoes from Minnesota iron mines, by the same route downward to the Ohio river, and the recently declared purpose of those behind the project to equip another fleet for the shipment of oil, all combine to restore to the great river at least some of its lost prestige as a burden-bearer. It is not the fault of the river that it has not always been a greater factor in equalizing freight rates in the wonderful basin to which it has given its name. It has invited commerce since the days of De Soto, but the appeal has long been unheeded.—Christian Science Monitor.

(Christian Science Monitor.)

For three years the world has heard the word Kultur used with a frequency which has caused it to accept it almost as a matter of course. Yet it is doubtful if even yet it attaches to it the meaning with which it is weighted in Bonn or Jena. In the English language culture means simply the cultivation of the human mind so as to produce a certain intellectual refinement. And this is the meaning the ordinary speaker of English is apt mentally to read into the word Kultur. But the meaning of Kultur to the German mind is something entirely different. It may be summed up almost as the law of the hive. In other words it is the theory that the state is the manifestation of the divine idea.

No man ever put this more clearly than Heinrich von Treitschke, the very high priest of Kultur. The essence of the state, he insists, is power. As a result, it follows that the ideal of self-sacrifice ends with the individual, and does not apply to the state, since there is nothing higher than the state to which the state can sacrifice itself. Thus the highest duty of the state, like that of the hive, is one of self-conservation. Out of this, then, inevitably grows the distinction, Treitschke himself insists upon, between private and public morality. The moral law incumbent on the individual is abrogated in the person of the state, for the state being power has no law save that of self-preservation or self-assertion. Owing to this the arch political crime is weakness. Weakness in the name of the state is the sin against the Holy Ghost.

Anybody who grasps what this means will have no difficulty whatever in unveiling the mystery of the German exhibition of frightfulness during the present war. The individual must not repudiate his signature to a lease or a bond, but the state may regard a treaty, as in the case of the Belgian guarantee, as "a scrap of paper." The individual must not ignore the law of property or trespass, but the state may invade a country, as in the case of Belgium, which it is pledged to defend, and seize the property of that nation for its own purposes. The individual must not commit murder, but the state is entirely exempt from such restrictions, and may take life individually, as in the case of Miss Cavell, or in the mass, as in the case of the passengers on the Lusitania, without compunction. This does not, of course, mean that the people of Germany are peculiarly cruel, or that they are troubled with a double dose of what the world terms original sin. But it does mean that they have delivered themselves over to a political philosophy which is immoral in its theory and inhuman in its practice. The people of Kultur, however, does not view it from this standpoint at all. He has worked out his theory with the exactness of a quadratic equation. In time of war the one mind is the General Staff. If the General Staff says, "Sink without trace," sink without trace it must be, just as, if the General Staff decides on deportations, deportations there must be. The idea must be right and must be obeyed, even if the world perishes under the demonstration of it, because the General Staff has so decided.

Now, in practice, Kultur is the application of the neo-Darwinism to politics. It was the apostle of Kultur who first dreamed of applying the law of natural selection to the state. Natural selection is the theory that nature eventually chooses and preserves the types best adapted to her purpose. Mankind, to the believer in Kultur, is entirely subject to the law of evolution. It is divided up into races and organizations all committed to the law of struggle. Since, however, both the types and organisms are irreconcilable, the remorseless and pitiless struggle must continue until nature selects, through victory over the others, the fittest type and the most perfect organization.

The theory of the German professors, then, is that the German race is the fittest to survive, and as such has been selected by nature, and that this being so, its Kultur or form of political organization must, by the law of natural selection, be the best.

mal or the plant struggle for supremacy, upon the rest of the world. Such a struggle is to the death, and so just as physical nature knows no mercy nor compromise, so no mercy nor compromise must be shown by the state. Mercy, compromise, these are evidences of weakness, and as such, in the words of Treitschke, the sin, in politics, against the Holy Ghost.

It is easy to see from this how the professor as well as, even more than, the soldier, and the merchant equally with the Junker, have been able to accept and justify scraps of paper, Louisiana sinkings, deportations, and even the most sanguinary holocaust of German battalions on the battlefield. War is brutal, but it is nature's way of conducting the struggle. The fittest must survive, and to achieve the right to survive the hive must send its battalions, if necessary, in dense formations up to the muzzle of the machine guns in the trenches. If there is this mercilessness for the German variety of the species, destined to prevail for the purpose of saving the species by impressing Kultur on the other varieties, how can it be expected that mercy should be shown to those varieties? It is nature's method of selection, and really needs no defense from men. It is the law of the hive, and because of this it is futile and unjust to blame the Queen Bee, or to make the Queen Bee the scapegoat, if the mixedness of the metaphor may be forgiven, for the hive.

The promised land of the new dispensation, then, is to be Mittel-Europa, and the chosen people the German inhabitants thereof. The pure Germans would not be sufficient to impose Kultur upon mankind, and therefore the first step is to bring the other hives in its neighborhood under the influence of Kultur. Friedrich Naumann, in his well-known book "Mittel-Europa," explains how this is to be done. "All the traditional separatism of these lands," he writes, "must be so effaced in the stress of the great war as to make the idea of union tolerable." There will, he admits, no doubt be strong opposition to the new state in Austria and Hungary, but the union, in spite of this, is inevitable. There is no chance about it, he declares, it is a necessity. The world knows what is meant when a German, a Magyar, a Pole, or a Czech is spoken of, but the Mid-European type still remains to be developed, though it is in the process of formation. Round the German spirit there is to grow up this Mid-European Kultur which will later be imposed upon the barbarian outside, if necessary by the sword. In plain English, just as the Muhammadan started out from Mecca to impose the religion of the Prophet on humanity with a scimitar, so the German is to start out from Potsdam to impose the religion of Kultur on humanity with a machine gun. For be it remarked, Kultur is a religion in itself. Herr Naumann makes this plain enough. "When Bismarck's empire made its peace with the Pope and the party of the Center," he writes, "the Protestant character of the Hohenzollern Emperors became an unofficial private affair of those who, as wearers of the crown, were above creeds."

In other words, the state being superior to the human sense of morality, being in short a religion in itself, the ruler of the state, though he may continue in an unofficial way to describe himself as a Protestant, is placed above a creed. The new empire, as such, can have no special creed, and is unable, as such, to have any. In precisely the same way there is no reasoning with the hive. Given such premises, there is only one argument which has a chance of being listened to in reply. It is that "Wayland Smith" can swing a heavier hammer than Thor.

No man ever foresaw more clearly what was coming, or understood more thoroughly the inevitable result of the new philosophy, than that wonderful Jew, Heine. Long ago, in the past century, he warned France, in particular, of what would happen in the days when the gods of the Stone Age were worshipped in the modern philosophy.

with his colossal hammer, would leap across the Rhine to smash in pieces the Gothic cathedrals. Often, in the past few years, as they have watched the German shells dropping through the roof or splintering the carvings of the great Church of St. Remi, in Rheims, must the people of Champagne have thought of this warning, and have realized that there was nothing for it but to accept the advice of the poet, and to remain on guard with their rifles on their shoulders.

PRICE FIXING.

(Indianapolis News.)

The government has already fixed a price on wheat and on coal at the mines. Copper and steel prices are to be set soon, and the sugar men have voluntarily placed their business under government regulation. Whether the plan of price fixing is to be extended indefinitely depends on the success of the policy as applied to these commodities and on whether or not an attempt is made to hold up the public through speculation or combination in those lines not now subject to government regulation. There is a strong agitation for the extension of the price-fixing principle to include all necessities.

Regardless of whether or not this would be in the public interest, it is important that some policy should be decided on as quickly as possible. The effect of the uncertainty as to the government's policy will be to check business. Complaints are already being heard from business men and producers, who, in some cases, do not care what course is taken, but are keenly interested in knowing which one will be pursued. The merchant hesitates to buy a stock of canned goods, of coffee, of dry goods or any other article of common consumption, because he does not know whether the government is to fix a price on these goods or not. Uncertainty also exists in the mind of the farmer who is planning for next year's operations. If the price of the 1918 wheat crop is to be fixed, and the price of corn left to establish itself, he may find it more profitable, with corn in some places already exceeding the price of wheat, to plant corn in the place of wheat. If the corn price is to be fixed, he would like to know what the price is to be.

Stock breeders, too, and practically every other producer of necessities, from brooms to berries, are interested in knowing just how far the government is going to go in its price-fixing policy, so that they can adjust their business accordingly. It is to be hoped that a decision will be reached and made public soon.

PROCLAMATION BY PRESIDENT WILSON CALLING CHILDREN OF SCHOOLS TO RED CROSS WORK

Washington, Sept. 19.—President Wilson has issued a proclamation calling upon the school children of the nation to do their part in the war by joining the Junior Red Cross to assist in the mercy work of the senior organization.

The president says the children's branch of the Red Cross will give an opportunity for relief work for the benefit of both the community and country; will teach how to save in order that suffering children elsewhere may have the chance to live, and will make possible the best work in the great cause of freedom to which we have all pledged ourselves. The proclamation follows:

To the school children of the United States: A proclamation: The president of the United States is also president of the American Red Cross. It is from these offices joined in one that I write you a word of greeting at this time when so many of you are beginning the school year.

The American Red Cross has just prepared a junior membership with school activities in which every pupil in the United States can find a chance to serve our country. The school is the natural center of your life. Through it you can best work in the great cause of freedom to which we have all pledged ourselves.

Our Junior Red Cross will bring to you opportunities of service to your community and to other communities all over the world and guide you service with high and religious ideals. It will teach you how to save in order that suffering children elsewhere may have the chance to live. It will teach you how to prepare some of the supplies which wounded soldiers and homeless families lack. It will send to you through the Red Cross bulletins the thrilling stories of relief and rescue. And best of all, more perfectly than through any of your other school lessons, you will learn by doing those kind things under your teacher's direction to be the future good citizens of this great country which we all love.

And I commend to all school teachers in the country the simple plan which the American Red Cross has prepared to provide for your co-operation, knowing as I do that school children will give their best services under the direct guidance and instruction of their teachers. Is not this perhaps the chance for which you have been looking to give your time and efforts in a measure to meet our national needs?

WOODROW WILSON, President.

In a letter to Dr. H. N. MacCracken, president of Vassar college, in charge of the junior organization, the president has expressed his great interest in the movement, saying he thinks the children "will all look back on the work they are undertaking as a happy circumstance of their school days."

Plans are under way in co-operation with the boards of education of various states for launching membership campaigns. Schools are to be recruited as units with membership fees of 25 cents for each pupil. The juniors will aid in the making of the simpler articles and supplies needed in the hospitals abroad.

At the Cooking School.

Naturally even the best of cooks can learn something new, so when Mrs. McKoin, of Nashville, Tenn., is conducting a series of lessons in Elks' temple this week, under the auspices of this paper and the Woman's Club league, struck a responsive chord, when she said, "I don't suppose I know any more than many of you, but I may have some ideas that are different." And before she was through demonstrating the various meats and fruits prepared and which the visitors pronounced "fine," she made her words good. Mrs. McKoin also said that if anyone has a good recipe or way of doing things that was new to her, she would be glad to hear about it, for this cooking school is a helping school as well as a demonstrator. Mrs. McKoin made use of the cinnamon drop, so dear to the heart of every child, and combined apples and bananas in a new way. The candy mints may also be used in combination with apples instead of the cinnamon candy. The directions for cooking meat were practical and modern and Mrs. McKoin's pleasant way of talking and easy way of doing what she has to do were very agreeable. Salads today and cakes tomorrow are equally interesting topics.

Thursday Is Cake Day at Sentinel Cooking School

MRS. MCKOIN TO MAKE CAKES WHICH MADE HER FAMOUS OVER MANY STATES.

Ice Cream to Be Served—All of Mrs. McKoin's Recipes to Be Published Each Day in The Sentinel.

THURSDAY PROGRAM.

Music at 2:45—Packard motor driven piano—Courtney Packard Motor Co.

Demonstration cake baking, icing and decorating by Mrs. McKoin and her assistants.

Demonstration salads and talk on their value as a food.

Decorating and icing of cake to be given to some lady in audience.

The first day of The Sentinel free cooking school was a big success from every viewpoint. The attendance was large, the big auditorium being well filled with Port Wayne housewives—all eager to learn some new wrinkle in the art of cooking and intensely interested in the wonderful things Mrs. McKoin said and did.

Mrs. McKoin proves to be a charming lecturer and entertainer as well as an able demonstrator. Coming from the south, where good cooking is one of the prime traditions, Mrs. McKoin's ability was a foregone conclusion. But Mrs. McKoin is personally fascinating, being of the southern type that is famous for hospitality, and her thoughtfulness for her audiences, together with her demonstrations of scientific, modern blending, and attractive methods of serving, were a genuine delight to Tuesday's audience, and Mrs. McKoin's popularity with Port Wayne ladies was established from the outset. Mrs. McKoin at all times kept in prominent view her purpose of economizing—even to the saving of every bread crumb.

Breads Today.

The second day of the series is bread day, and Mrs. McKoin today made nut bread from bread, corn bread and white bread. All of these demonstrations were carried out with the greatest ease and expediency and each recipe was strikingly economical. Today was the first opportunity that the Port Wayne ladies had to see the famous cook use corn meal, so favored in the south, and the absence of sweetening in corn bread was noticeable. Mrs. McKoin used the well known New Veno flour in her breads, and at this juncture she spent some time on the topic of flour. There are two kinds of flour on the market, said the lecturer, "the native soft wheat, such as is this New Veno, and the northern or western hard wheat flour. We southern cooks will have nothing but the soft wheat. This New Veno flour from winter wheat is really superior for cakes and for breads. As I use it I find it makes a whiter and nicer bread." Mrs. McKoin stated that the New Veno flour was one of the best milled of any soft wheat flour she had ever used.

Thursday Cake Day.

On Thursday Mrs. McKoin will demonstrate some of the famous cakes for which she makes for elaborate social and other occasions in the north and east. She will teach the recipe of the decorative icing, and show the ladies how to make the famous paper tubes. The Thursday audience will have a genuine treat in the form of ice cream which will be served to every lady in the auditorium. Mrs. McKoin is a staunch advocate of a good ice cream as a part of the menu; ice cream which comes up to standard is a food, according to Mrs. McKoin's advocacy, and besides being a food, it is easily served and comparatively inexpensive. The well known Furnas ice cream will be used in the Thursday demonstration, and Mrs. McKoin will show some interesting statements as the result of her analysis of the food ingredients in the ice cream.

Merchants Co-Operate.

The success of The Sentinel cooking school is in no small part due to the very fine co-operation that is being given by the local firms. The Hadley Furniture company have supplied Mrs. McKoin's kitchen cabinet, which is her favorite, and which she uses in every city where she goes. As an inducement to the business of Port Wayne, she has installed a McGowan kitchen cabinet without delay. The Hadley Furniture company are offering a fifty-pound sack of flour with each cabinet sold during the week of The Sentinel's cooking school. Besides the kitchen cabinets, Hadley's have supplied Mrs. McKoin with tables and refrigerator, while the Northern Indiana Gas company installed a Detroit Jeweled range for her use. Another contribution that is much appreciated at the cooking school is the entertainment of ladies who come early, procure the front seats and knit while they wait for the program to begin.

Tuesday's Recipe.

Roiled Roast—Select rib roast of younger days, who will find vast amusement and entertainment in it.

Cook and bake in medium oven, allowing about twenty minutes to each pound. When done to your taste, remove from pan. To meat juice add two table-spoons flour, stir until browned well and free from lumps; add two cups boiling water, let boil and season with salt, pepper and one teaspoon Worcestershire sauce.

Veal Cutlets—Boil shank of veal until meat falls from bone. Grind meat and season well with salt and cayenne. Add one cup rich cream sauce. Set aside to get perfectly cold and firm. Form into cutlets. Dip in egg and crumbs. Fry in deep fat.

Stuffed Onions—Scoop out centers of medium sized white onions. Boil until nearly done, that is, don't let them get too soft. Place in a shallow pan, fill center with crumbs and ground meat seasoned well, put bit of butter on top and bake twenty minutes.

Baked Peaches with Rice—Select large halves yellow peaches, place in center of each a bit of butter, sprinkle with cinnamon and sugar. Bake in shallow pan surrounded with juice from can of peaches. Cook rice in double boiler until dry. Turn out on platter. Serve with peaches around mold of rice.

Head Lettuce with Red Dressing—Make a red dressing by first making a French dressing—that is, 4 table-spoons oil to one of vinegar or lemon juice. Salt and cayenne. Beat well together, then add ½ cup tomato catsup. Serve on head lettuce.

Breaded Pork Chops with Cinnamon Apples—Peel and core six or eight medium sized apples, fill centers with bananas and cook in cinnamon syrup until apples can be pierced with a straw. Make a syrup of 1 ½ cups of sugar, 1 cup of water, ½ cup of cinnamon drops. Put on stove and let boil until it is syrup when it is ready for apples. Garnish platter of breaded pork chops with apples and parsley.

Stuffed Egg Plant—Parboil egg plant whole until tender, scoop out center of each half, leaving half shells to bake in. Chop the pulp or center and mix with 2 table-spoons ground meat, ½ cup bread crumbs and 1 cup of Creole sauce. Put in shells and cover with bread crumbs and butter. Bake in moderate oven 20 minutes.

How to Cure Chronic Constipation.

In both young and old the most important item in restoring the bowels to a natural condition is to establish a habit of having the bowels move at a certain time each day whether there is an inclination or not. Also drink an abundance of water and walk three or four miles a day. When a laxative is required take Chamberlain's Tablets. They are mild and gentle, easy to take and agreeable in effect.—Advertisement.

NEPHEW OF JOFFRE.

Plainfield, N. J., Sept. 19.—The United States army has a private in the ranks who is a nephew of Marshal Joffre, the hero of the Marne and "savior of France."

He is Andrew Reid IV., member of an old Baltimore family, and son of a sister of the famous French marshal. He was accepted a week ago as a private in the aviation section of the United States army.

Private Reid told his classmates why he entered the service of Uncle Sam.

"I feel like a lot of other Americans," he said. "I feel that I wouldn't care to face the future unless I had done my duty in this present crisis. I'd never dare face my uncle, Marshal Joffre, unless I were in uniform."

Private Reid, 26, is a graduate of St. John's military school at Annapolis, Md. His mother recently gave $28,000 to found an ambulance unit in France.

FLIES 1,000 MILES.

A flight of 1,000 miles, from the Danube to Saloniki and return, twice over two German fronts is the war aviation record set by Lieutenant Imolinoff, Russian aviator. He made the 500-mile return trip from Saloniki to his base at Bolgrad, a village on the Russian side of the Danube, in eight hours. He reports a firm morale among the Russian contingents on the Macedonian front.

VETERAN BATTERY TO HOLD REUNION

Eleventh Indiana Boys to Meet at the Home of Charles P. Roy.

All arrangements have been made by Chairman S. S. Kelker to assure the success of the annual reunion of the Eleventh Indiana battery. The meeting will be held at the home of Charles P. Roy on the Coldwater road, seven miles north of the city. The veterans, both honorary and active, along with the invited guests will leave the east side of the court house at 9 o'clock Thursday. A number of citizens and county officials have donated the use of their cars in transporting the soldiers to the Roy home.

At the Roy home John Shuler will welcome his comrades-in-arms as host. The morning will be taken up by a business meeting, followed by an election of officers for the ensuing year. There will also be a discussion as to the continuance of the organization by the survivors.

Mess will be held at 11 o'clock, under the trees, if the weather will permit. In the afternoon a program of patriotic songs and speeches will be given, which will recall the bygone days to men who are present.

It was announced that those who could not start at the scheduled time might take the Hometown interurban at a later hour and get off at stop 10. They will be met here by auto if they call 525 blue before leaving the city.

TRACTION COMPANY'S STOCK TOTALS $675,000

Statement is Filed in Connection With Receivership Proceedings of B. G. & C.

(Special to The Sentinel)

Bluffton, Ind., Sept. 19.—A statement of the liabilities and assets of the B. G. & C. Traction company was filed in court Tuesday as a part of the receivership proceedings brought by Thomas Flynn. The assets show all the property controlled by the company and in the liability is listed total stock of $675,000, of which $450,000 is common and $225,000 preferred. Two notes, one for $1,000, and the other for $800, are also listed. Very little interest has been paid on the preferred stock, the statement says.

Bluffton Short Items.

Two Warren boys, Verne Ditzler and Carl Coover, who formerly lived in Bluffton, were held for service by the district board at Fort Wayne yesterday. Other Warren men held for service are B. J. Palmer and James Muellin.

Paul Markley, who is home on a five day furlough from Fort Dupont, Delaware, stated Tuesday that young men who enlisted in the coast artillery can be taken to France, if in the opinion of the war department, they are needed there. The coast guardsmen will be put on duty with the heavy artillery if they are taken across, Markley says, and such action would not be a surprise to them.

County Superintendent Huyette today announced that he had secured Miss Glessna Palmer to teach music in the Liberty Center, Union Center and Keystone schools.

Judge Eichhorn went to Indianapolis Wednesday to attend a preliminary of the sixty men who have already volunteered to assist in the big drive planned by the state council of defense. Judge Eichhorn is one of those who have volunteered their services next week.

The Huntington county sheriff and his deputy were in Bluffton looking for a negro thief who robbed a farm house Sunday, making a getaway with an overcoat, suit of clothes, silk dress, rings and other jewelry. The officers learned that the negro stopped at a roadside home last night in search for something to eat and about noon boarded a Clover Leaf freight train.

The county subscription board has examined Willard E. Lantis for the board at Los Angeles and Grover Prough for the board at Clarkston, Mich. Lantis failed and Prough passed. Prough was given discharge on the grounds of dependents. Theo. H. Penrod, Roy Ehler and Wilbur S. Welch have filed notices of appeal to the district board claiming dependents. Armor Fisher will appeal on the grounds of physical disability.

For Colic and Diarrhoea.

Mrs. C. F. Adamson, Gorham, N. Y., when speaking of family medicines says, "We think Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy is the best on the market for colic and diarrhoea." You will find hosts of others who are of the same opinion.—Advertisement.

WHO KILLED MRS. KING? COUNTY IN NORTH CAROLINA HOME OF BEAUTY'S SECRETARY, TORN BY QUESTION

Staff Writer Goes Over
Scene Guided by Farmer
Whose Story Brought Reopening of Case.

By J. BENJAMIN DUCKWORTH.

Concord, N. C., Sept. 13.—No more eerie spot for the staging of a tragedy could be found than the backwoods of the North Carolina mountains. The shooting of Mrs. Maude A. King, handsome and well-to-do Chicago widow, who kept an expensive apartment on fashionable Park avenue, New York.

After going to the place earlier in the day, I revisited the scene at night. It was then that I realized how an Edgar Allan Poe would revel in making this dark scene the scene of a great tragedy.

By day it is a delightfully cool retreat, a place where the young lovers, set amid the oaks and cotton fields of Calumet county, at night, shrouded by the surrounding woods from even the light of the stars, it is a pitch black hole in the side of a hill that one would think was exploding alone.

My companion was Farmer Charles A. Dry, who from his porch upon a hill 150 yards away heard two shots on the night of August 29. It was Dry who started Concord after the body had been taken to Chicago with a story that disagrees materially from that of Gaston Means, Mrs. King's secretary.

By the light of Dry's lantern I stumbled over the roots of giant cedars, stood by the forked tree beneath which Mrs. King fell with a bullet wound at the back of her left ear, and sat down by the spring, 30 feet away, where Gaston Means says he was drinking when the rich widow accidentally shot herself while twirling a small automatic pistol around her head.

Coroner Sears says he believes an injured ankle caused Mrs. King to lose her footing in the dark and when she threw up her arms to regain her balance the pistol was discharged.

Mrs. MAUDE A. KING

P. S. McDuffie, an Atlanta lawyer, retained by Mrs. A. L. Robinson, of Asheville, N. C., Mrs. King's mother, says that of the million-dollar estate which Mrs. King obtained by breaking her lumberman husband's will in Chicago in 1906, only $490,000 remains. McDuffie is trying to discover what became of the other $510,000.

By the flickering glimmer of his lantern as we stood by the forked tree, Dry told me how from his porch he heard a shot and a voice call, several times, "Captain, come here quick!" He then caught the sound of men breaking through the bushes between his farm and the spring, and making in the direction of the latter. Next he saw the lights of an auto come tearing down the high road from Concord and turn into the abandoned lane. The car stopped near the spring. He heard a door slam, saw through the trees and underbrush the tall lights of the car backing up. The car then moved about fifteen feet forward, when he heard a second shot and saw a flash.

The auto crawled out into the main road, and made off toward Concord at a terrific speed.

G. B. MEANS

Carolina tragedy may be, the feud already started between the Means and Anti-Means factions is likely to outlive the legal decision.

EXEMPTION APPEAL RULE

Washington, Sept. 19.—The following telegram has been sent to governors by the provost-marshal-general: "Claims for exemption or discharge on the ground of engagement in industry and agriculture are within the original jurisdiction of the district boards. Decision of the district boards is final except that the president may affirm, modify or reverse such decision in accordance with regulations prescribed by him. The regulations prescribed by the president provide for appeal from the decision of the district board on agricultural and industrial claims, but the claim for appeal must be filed with the district board who will send all evidence and other matter considered in the case to the president for his consideration. If after the decision of the district board it is desired to submit new matter, the district board may reopen the case, consider such new matter and if it adheres to its original decision, forward such new matter to the president. Matter not presented to the district boards cannot be considered on appeal to the president.

"While district boards are not courts, their function in passing on claims, and the function of the president in examining their decisions, is quasi-judicial. Since the general rule must be that nothing which was not presented to the district board can be considered on appeal to the president it would be subversive of the spirit of the law and violative of the judicial function that is being executed to make exceptions in individual cases, and receive suggestions, rulings or statements from individuals concerning particular cases pending here on appeal."

"There is No Substitute for Butter Even in Cooking"--- Says Mrs. McKoin

I have tried various experiments and tests—but butter is not only more desirable but MORE ECONOMICAL in cooking as well as serving.

"In butterfat one gets indispensable qualities that are not to be found in other fats or foods. The use of butter in cooking energizes the low priced foods—and not only makes them more tasty but more nourishing."

Delft Brand Creamery Butter

Is made from selected cream—perfectly packed—and is a first quality butter. Delft Brand is the first choice of all Fort Wayne housewives. Mrs. McKoin selected it and is using Delft Brand in all of her cooking and serving. Observe Mrs. McKoin's experience, and you, too, will use butter for all purposes. Use butter in cooking your vegetables and meats; have butter with your cereals; spread it thick on bread and butter cakes. You can't use too much butter, because the system utilizes at once or stores away for future use all the butter you can eat—which is not true of meat food.

BRAND BUTTER IS SOLD BY ALL LEADING GROCERS

ALL OF CINCINNATI RED'S STARS HERE FOR GAME WITH FORT WAYNE

Christy Mathewson Will Use Best Players at League Park.

The far famed Christy Mathewson and his equally famous aggregation of Cincinnati Reds arrived in Fort Wayne early this morning, and were ready for the game scheduled with the all-star Fort Wayne club at League park this afternoon. It was no sham Red team which arrived here. The lineup comprises the names of players who have made the great national game.

This year the Reds have had more 300 hitters than any other two clubs in the Tanager circuit, and if some other departments had been going as strong as the hitting department the Reds would have walked away with the National league pennant. The Reds' train came in over the G. R. & I. at an early hour and most of the players remained on the sleeper until late this morning. Seven of the players, however, went directly to the Anthony hotel. These were Mathewson, manager of the club; Heinie Groh, 300 hitter; Eddie Rousch, former Federal league star, and leading National league batsman; McKechnie, Regan, pitcher; McGee, Ruether, and Ritcher.

Mathewson's act in bringing his best players and the entire roster of his stars is characteristic of the spirit which has probably made him baseball's most popular hero. Another team here a short time ago purporting to be the class of organized baseball and contenders for the world championship, through no fault of the local managements, who were forced to put up a large guarantee, sent in a second string bunch who failed to live up to the expectations of the local baseball fans.

FIGHT AND TRIPLE PLAY AT SMOKE TOWN

Pirates Lose Two But Give Braves Stiff Argument.

Pittsburg, Sept. 19.—Several thrills accompanied the double-header yesterday between Pittsburg and Boston in which the visitors took both games, 5 to 3 and 6 to 4. The first triple play ever seen at Forbes field was engineered in the second inning. With the bases full and none out, Myers hit to Boeckel, who threw to Schmidt, the latter relaying the ball to first in time to eliminate Myers, and when Kelly kept coming for the plate from second Molwitz's throw to Schmidt put him out. Later King, and Chief Meyers had a fist fight. They were put out of the game, as well as Pitcher Jacobs, who pushed Meyers around. Score: Boston..... 0 0 0 1 0 0 0—1

Cincinnati, Sept. 19.—The Phils wound up their 1917 season at Redland field when Fred Toney bested E. J. Rixey in a pitchers' duel 1 to 0. Singles by Magee and Chase and a double steal gave the Reds the contest in the seventh. Score: Philadelphia..... 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0
Batteries—Rixey and Killifer; Toney and Smith.

Doak in Stellar Role.
St. Louis, Sept. 19.—Doak pitched St. Louis to victory in both games of yesterday's double-header with Brooklyn, winning the first 12 to 0 and the second 12 to 4. Doak has now won fifteen games for which he receives a bonus of $800. Score: Brooklyn..... 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0

THE FIGHT FOR PENNANTS.

Both the White Sox and Giants increased their leads yesterday. The Giants won while the Phillies lost and New York now leads by 12½ games. To clinch the flag the Giants need but three more victories out of 14 games even if the Phillies win all their 15 games. The standing then would be:

Team	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Giants	34	60	.610
Phillies	32	69	.605

The Red Sox were prevented from playing on account of rain and the White Sox trimmed the Athletics, increasing their lead to eight games. Chicago needs but six victories out of 11 games to clinch the pennant even though the Red Sox win their remaining 16 contests. The standing then would be:

Team	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
White Sox	101	53	.656
Red Sox	100	53	.654

ASSOCIATION SEASON WILL CLOSE TODAY

Indianapolis Club Establishes Unique Record and Wins Pennant.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—With the Indianapolis club winner of the pennant this season, the American association will close today with St. Paul and Louisville fighting it out for second place honors. These two clubs, which for the last few days threatened to upset Indianapolis, are tied, each having won 83 and lost 65. St. Paul will play at Columbus today, Kansas City at Louisville, Milwaukee at Indianapolis and Minneapolis at Toledo. Indianapolis is safely out in front with a two and a half game lead over Louisville and St. Paul. Columbus is in possession of fourth place and Milwaukee fifth.

The Indianapolis team, which got away in the lead at the start of the race, and retained it until dethroned for a day by St. Paul last week, made an unusual record in not having a player fined nor put out of a game by an umpire during the season.

"This fact, in my judgment," said Thomas J. Hickey, president of the association, "is the thing that helped the club most although it has played consistent ball all season has been fortunate in not having many players injured."

The official standing, including games of yesterday, follows:

Club	Won.	Lost.
Indianapolis	90	62
St. Paul	83	65
Louisville	83	65
Columbus	83	69
Milwaukee	70	81
Minneapolis	67	85
Kansas City	65	89
Toledo	55	94

SPORT CHATTER
Volleyball soldiers causing the men in Russia has a precedent in Ohio, where women bowlers have the men on the run. How the mighty are fallen. Charley McCourt, who used to be world champion three-cushionist, was beaten by an amateur the other night.

Ty Cobb went hitless in both games of a double-header the other day, which means that Jennings probably will ask waivers on him.

LIFE'S LITTLE TRAGEDIES—
A Boston man agreed not to eat beans for a year if the Red Sox did not win a pennant.

All of which reminds us that Harry Frazer probably will agree that it is impossible to buy a pennant winner.

IN THE FOOTBALL CAMPS.
Wisconsin.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 19.—Fifteen Badger football candidates were given a thorough workout by Coach John Richards in the first real practice of the season. The new mentor put his men through a double drill, the morning being given over to passing, running and kicking and the afternoon to signal formations and dummy tackling.

Capt. Hancock appeared in uniform for the first time along with Thompson, Hipke and Davy, of last year's squad. Wisconsin's prospects received their first setback when it was learned that Ray Edler, halfback on last year's team, who had been counted on to suit one of the backfield positions, had enlisted in the aviation service and is now on his way to an eastern training camp.

Notre Dame.
Notre Dame, Ind., Sept. 19.—Two practices and the arrival of Walter Miller, substitute backfield man last year, and Sherwood Dixon, Bill Andres, Norman Barry and M. Ryan toned up the football situation at Notre Dame. Tom King and Robert McGuire are expected Wednesday, though King has been drafted and may have to leave. Doubtful workouts will be put on again Wednesday, but on Thursday college classes are resumed and only one practice a day can be held.

Indiana.
Bloomington, Ind., Sept. 19.—An inventory of the Indiana university football squad showed sixteen candidates present, which is the smallest number in the history of the school and not more than a fourth as large as the number reporting at the same period last year. Coaches Stehm and Evans are not worrying as they make up in quality what is lacking in quantity. The squad now consists of the following veterans:

Capt. Hathaway, Bowser, Howard, Ingles, Julius Keever, Cravenshaw, Pierce, Rieley, Sherwood, Dalsell, Batsell, Von Tress and Heugung.

Indiana university in a statement last night says the attendance has fallen off 20 per cent compared with last year, on account of the war.

BOXING MATCHES TONIGHT WILL CONCLUDE DAY OF REAL SPORT

Fast Bouts Are Expected to Attract Capacity Crowd.

A day for lovers of real sport together with major league baseball and a big boxing card, was scheduled today for Fort Wayne. Lovers of the fist game will have ample opportunity to indulge themselves this evening at the Majestic when the gong taps for the start of the first of three ten-round bouts.

Three local boys will figure in the bouts tonight and fight fans will naturally back the home talent. The local pugns wound up their training yesterday with light workouts and took things comparatively easy today, doing little except to rest their muscles for the big efforts tonight. Fight fans from different parts of the state began arriving here yesterday and will be here to take in both the baseball game between Cincinnati and Fort Wayne and the bouts tonight.

Sammie Hess, of this city, and Paddy Kelly, of St. Louis, will stage the preliminary. They will weigh in at 135 pounds for a ten-round go. Len Ellenwood, of Fort Wayne, and Young Stanley, of Chicago, will provide the entertainment for the semi-windup. They will fight at 126 pounds. Frankie Mason, of Fort Wayne, and Jimmy Curtis, of St. Louis, both little fellows, will furnish the main go. Both are topnotchers in their class. Mason, the local boy, has defeated the best in the business and it is freely predicted that Curtis will have to uncover more than is expected if he stays the limit. Mason has a wallop in either mitt and is lightning fast. The first bout tonight will start at 8:15.

FOUR COMPLETE RACES ON CIRCUIT CARD

Abbie Oryad the Possible

Columbus, O., Sept. 19.—Four complete races are on today's Grand circuit program and there should be at least one history making contest in the lot. Nothing exceptional can be expected in the 2:16 trot for a purse of $1,000, but in the Horse Review Futurity, for 3-year-olds, purse $3,000; the Hotel Hartman stake of $5,000 for 3-year-olds; and the free-for-all trot, with a $1,200 bonus, much action is promised. Abbie Dryad, Forman, Evelyn, Kay Watts, Rex De Forest, Lady Postyn, Don Buncie, Gold Quarts and Donna Lola are three-year-olds in the Futurity race. Abbie Dryad is picked as a possible winner with Forman in the money.

With Little Bessie as the possible favorite, Bester Lou, Battle King, The Tanager Queen, Homer D. and W. J. are the other three-year-olds in the Futurity race.

"LET HIM SPEND HIS MONEY," ANSWERS WIFE

Mrs. Ellison Refuses to Be Alarmed at Husband's Mistake.

Dean Ellison, road contractor, of Monroeville, is claimed to have been responsible for the entire $10 bond which was forfeited in police court Wednesday morning, in the case in which Ellison was charged with associating with Bessie Bice, who also gave the name of Grace Davidson, 1528 Harrison street.

Friends of Mrs. Dean Ellison telephoned the woman at Monroeville of her husband's misconduct and costly apprehension.

"Let him spend his money if he has it to spend," Mrs. Ellison is claimed to have replied.

Ellison and the Bice woman were arrested by a Proctor Hall and Hill, who were assisted by men of the Harrison street neighborhood, Tuesday night. The house has been under surveillance for some time. The woman aroused the indignation of the neighbors when she introduced Ellison as her husband, several days ago.

Neither Ellison or Bessie Bice appeared in police court. Bonds in the sum of $5 for each had been put up for the pair. Judge H. W. Kerr declared the bond forfeited.

Charge Changed.
The charge against William Smith, colored, who pleaded guilty to taking $33 from George Ned, also colored, Tuesday morning, was changed from grand larceny to petit larceny, Tuesday night. Smith pleaded guilty to the petit larceny complaint Wednesday morning. He was fined $10 and sentenced to 150 days at the state farm.

Take Fixtures.
Carl Cureton, a negro, is charged with petit larceny. He will be tried on Friday morning. It is alleged that he took several articles from the bar room, in connection with the Baites hotel, where Cureton was employed.

Other Police Court Cases.
Clarence Lockhart, Evansville youth, was bound to the federal authorities because he admits that he is 24 years old and does not have a draft card on his person. Lockhart was arrested a week ago. He told at that time that he was registered and that his card was at home. He says he thought officials were making inquiries about his conscription status while he was in jail.

Mason Siment and Mose Cummings, companions of Lockhart, were released.

Cases of public intoxication were Henry Felder, $5 fine; Albert Watson, $5, and John Regan, $1. William Buren and Charles Brown were released.

Lovely White Skin!

Strain lemon juice well before mixing and massage face, neck, arms, hands.

By all means, girls, prepare a lemon lotion to keep your skin flexible and young looking. You will soon realize that true loveliness does not mean the powdery-look or waxen colorlessness of some hot-house flower, but is typified by the velvety softness of your skin, your peach-like complexion and rosy-white hands.

At the cost of a small jar of ordinary cold cream one can prepare a full quart of this most wonderful lemon skin softener and complexion beautifier, by squeezing the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white. Care should be taken to strain the juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan, and is the ideal skin softener, smoother and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any pharmacy and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quart of this sweetly fragrant lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It should naturally help to whiten, soften, freshen and bring out the color and hidden beauty of any skin. It is simply marvelous to smoothen rough, red hands.—Advertisement.

EQUIPPING NEW QUARTERS.

The Dudlo club are busy equipping their newly acquired club rooms. When finished the rooms will present an ideal place of amusement, as bowling alleys and pool tables are being installed, and an assembly room dance floor and office will be included.

No Humbug! Lift off Corns

Doesn't hurt a bit to lift a corn or callus off with fingers.

For a few cents you can get a small bottle of the magic drug freezone, recently discovered by a Cincinnati man.

Just ask at any drug store for a small bottle of freezone. Apply a few drops upon a tender, aching corn and instantly, yes, immediately, all soreness disappears and shortly you will find the corn or callus so loose that you lift it out, root and all, with the fingers.

Just think! Not one bit of pain before applying freezone or afterwards. It doesn't even irritate the surrounding skin.

Hard corns, soft corns or corns between the toes, also hardened calluses on bottom of feet, just seem to shrivel up and fall off without hurting a particle. It is almost magical.

Ladies! Keep a tiny bottle on your dresser and never let a corn or callus ache twice.—Advertisement.

WOMEN ASKED TO MAKE MORE PILLOW COMFORTS

The local branch of the Red Cross has received notice from Cleveland advising great care in the construction of articles for the soldiers. It was suggested that wristlets be made with thumb holes at either end whenever possible, and that buttons and seams should be placed on the outside. "The trend is to make everything as comfortable as possible."

Cleveland also notified the local branch to stop making fracture pillows, muslin bandages, 2x2 gauze swabs, knitted stockings and all laparotomy pads and gauze drains. It was added that all scarfs should be made seventy-two inches long, but to make sweaters if possible.

Mrs. Georgiana Bond, who is in charge of the workshop, has received notice that Fort Wayne is now changed into the lake division. She also is notified that pillow comforts are 20,000 short and asks that the women of Fort Wayne do their share.

CHILD TUMBLES FROM WINDOW TO SIDEWALK

Four-Year-Old Son of John Foohey Fractures His Skull.

Conley Foohey, four-year old son of John Foohey, contractor, 210 West Creighton avenue, fractured his skull when he fell from the second story window of his home to the concrete sidewalk below, Tuesday afternoon. Condition of the child is critical.

Conley was not sleeping when his mother put him to bed for his afternoon nap, Tuesday. After Mrs. Foohey had gone down stairs the child climbed out of bed and sought to rest himself by a more active pastime than sleeping. He climbed up into the front window to see the autos speed past and the progress of lumbering wagons.

The boy leaned too heavily against the wire screening of the window and forced the screen out. The screen and the child fell together. The fall was nearly twenty feet from the window easement to the concrete sidewalk.

Mrs. Foohey heard the cries of the injured boy and running to the walk gathered him in her arms and carried him into the house. The mother summoned a physician. The child is being cared for in the Foohey home.

Home Complexion Feeler Works Wonders

To keep the face, neck, arms and hands truly beautiful and youthful in appearance, the treatment which seems most sensible is one which will actually remove the skin itself immediately it begins to age, fade, coarsen or discolor. The only known treatment which will do this, aside from a painful, expensive surgical operation, is the application of ordinary mercerized wax, which is as harmless as it is effective.

The wax is put on at night, just as you apply cold cream, and washed off in the morning. It absorbs the dead and half-dead surface skin in almost invisible flaky particles, a little each day, no discomfort being experienced. With the disappearance of the old cuticle the newer, healthier skin underneath gradually appears, truly beautiful with the flush of youth. This mercerized wax, which you can get...

YOUNG MEN WHO HAVE COME TO THE FRONT IN BATTLING RACE THIS YEAR

WALTON CRUISE

on the farm. So, in 1912, he bade a fond farewell to the crops and cows and got a job pitching for Evansville, then in the Kitty League. He pitched only a little, but played the field a whole lot. He looked so good that he was re-engaged for 1913. Then he began to slug. He batted something like .330 in that league during 1913. His work was so good that he was called to the Chicago White Sox. Roush played several games for Chicago, but he was not yet ripe. Jimmie Callahan, League during the two seasons of that organization's endurance.

Roush hammered the federal pitchers hard in 1914. He got himself a batting average of .330. His team won the Federal League pennant in 1914. In 1915 the club was transferred to Newark. Roush went with it. He batted something like .295 that season. Then the Federal League broke up. There was a great rush for Kauff, Lee Magee and other stars. The New York Giants gave $35,000 for Kauff. Paid the cash. The New York Americans gave $28,000 for Magee. Roush, Rariden and Pitcher Anderson went in on the Kauff trade for almost nothing. McGraw wanted Kauff. He did not want Roush, Rariden or Anderson, but he let them be shoved in on the trade for the reason that Harry Sinclair, who sold the Federal players, thought that it would look bad to ask $35,000 for one player—Kauff.

Roush sat on the bench in New York during 1916. Davy Robertson came with a head of steam and a great flash in that year. Kauff was the press-agented star, but not a great success. George Burns, a beautiful ballplayer, had a cinch on the other position. Just now the three best ballplayers in the game would probably be Cobb, Roush and Burns. So it will be seen that there were good reasons why Roush did not get much of a chance with the Giants in 1916. Burns was great, Robertson was playing

Then began the making of another great baseball reputation. Roush began hitting and fielding in first-class fashion from the first day of the season. His almost innumerable hits and his brilliant catches have been features of all the games which Cincinnati has played. Not only is Roush hitting the ball hard and safely he has developed into one of the best men to hit with a runner the game has ever seen. With Hal Chase, another great hit-and-run man, helping him, Roush has

BY J. B. SHEPARD.

HERE'S a corking batting race in the National League this year. Three newcomers, Cruise, Roush and Hornsby are running neck and neck for the honor of leading what used to be Hans Wagner's private league. Wagner was wont to lead the league hitters year after year.

Now it is a young man named Roush, of whom no one heard much until this season. Cruise, too, is a first-year man, Hornsby is a good second season player. Cruise, the oldest of the trio, is only 27 years old. Roush is 26 and Hornsby is 23. They are all real hitters. No scratch about their averages. They are hitting the ball hard, far and frequently. They are "there."

Roush has been leading the league steadily, with Cruise and Hornsby right on his heels. The Cincinnati lad is a beautiful ballplayer. He can do everything, hit, bunt, field, throw and run bases. He is famously fast. It is very doubtful that a faster man has ever circled a diamond. I should say that George Sisler of St. Louis and some others are faster to first than Roush is. When it comes to circling the bags I do not think that any man I have ever seen is so fast a man as Roush.

Not only does Roush play beautiful ball, he is an ideal ballplayer in appearance. About 25 years old, medium height, weight around 160 pounds, graceful, gay and debonair. Roush looks the part of a great ballplayer. He plays up to his looks.

Cobb is the only man in either league who is hitting better than Roush this season. The incomparable Ty is out-slugging them all. Yet he is not hitting them any nearer or any prettier than Roush. The Hoosier Kid is meeting the ball perfectly, driving it to every field, getting long hits as well as singles, beating out infield hits. In all, playing the game for all it is worth. He is fielding, too. Some of his catches have been miraculous. He has covered ground on rollers, and his throwing has been splendid.

Passed Up by Tinker.

Verily, Roush is a great ballplayer and one wonders how he managed to keep his light under a bushel for so many years, and from so many keen-eyed managers. For be it known, Jimmie Callahan, John McGraw, Joe Tinker and Fielder Jones all passed up Roush at one time or another. Tinker and McGraw let him go after they had seen him hit .300 in the Federal League. Callahan sent him back to the minors in 1912, but that was before he got ripe. McGraw gave $35,000 for Kauff, and Roush was thrown in for good measure. Yet Roush is playing better ball than Kauff today, though the burly Benjamin is quite a good ballplayer himself. But not so good a ballplayer as Roush. In fact, there is just now but one man that I would put ahead of the Cincinnati outfielder. That man is Cobb. George Burns of New York is a wonderful ballplayer, but Burns is not hitting within .50 points of Roush just now.

Roush was born near Oakland, Ind., in 1891. He went the usual rural route of the country boy, farm work, ball playing, swimming, the stuff that puts reserve power in the man. Today Roush loves the farm, and, if he could afford to, would stay there all the time instead of playing ball. Nothing would better suit this great baseball player, this man who lives in great hotels, amid great crowds, and who is every day the cynosure of thousands of eyes, than to retire from the stadium to the solitude of the farm. Roush is a born farmer. He loves crops, farm animals and work.

But Edward could make more money on the city lots than he could then manager of the White Sox, sent the youth to Lincoln, Neb., for further seasoning.

Went to Federal League

Roush did not fancy life in Lincoln a bit. It was rather too far from the old farm down in Indiana. Then the salary was not very large. So, when the Federal League started a club in Indianapolis, in 1914, Roush begged, yes, literally begged, a job. He got it. His mates on that team were Benny Kauff and Vincent Campbell, two great hitters and outfielders. Kauff played left, Campbell center and Roush right. It was the best outfield in the Federal at a terrific clip, and Kauff, a good ballplayer, was highly press-agented and had cost a huge price. Kauff was not going good, but he showed promise and had a great vogue. He was a drawing card and McGraw had to make good with him for that $35,000.

So Roush, the best ballplayer of the three, Kauff, Robertson and Burns, sat on the bench and wished he was back on the farm in Indiana.

When Mathewson, McGraw's great pitcher, was given a chance to manage Cincinnati, McGraw wanted to help his old pal in every possible way. So he sold him Roush for a low price.

assisted in the scoring of more runs than any other batter in the National League.

Roush is a picture on the diamond. He stands in close to the plate, front foot and shoulder in, hits hard to all fields, can bunt and beat them out, hit with the runner, scoot around the bases like a timber wolf, slide like a flash and field like three men. He is a great ballplayer and he came from the farm down on the banks of the Wabash.

Roush is merely at the beginning of his career. This is practically his second season in the big leagues. He is just beginning to play ball. Roush should be a star for ten years to come. He is not the sort that grows heavy and he is very young. The only thing that will keep Roush from being a great star is that he may retire from baseball to the farm. He has frequently said that if he had enough money he would quit the game and go back to the plow. In so much as Roush, like all farmers, is avaricious for land, wants all of it he can possibly get, he might make good his threat to quit baseball. So long as he can make from $6,000 to $10,000 for playing baseball seven months in the year, it is not likely that he will retire. He can buy a lot of land for the money he will make in baseball.

Walton Cruise is the surprise of the season. Cruise was up to the National League in 1915 and 1916 but he did not make it stick either time. He was green when he came up in 1915, and could not get one foot past the other on bases. And he was a very poor fielder. So Miller Huggins, manager of the St. Louis Nationals, sent him back to St. Paul to learn something about baseball. Huggins had Cruise up for further trial in 1916, but Walton broke a collarbone early in the season and did not show Huggins anything. So it was back to St. Paul for the tall Tarheel. Cruise batted well in St. Paul until the end of the season, when he again wrenched that bad ankle and fell off in his hitting. So after batting .350 for the four months of the season in the American Association, Cruise slumped down to .284 or thereabouts.

Was Born on Farm.

Huggins had Cruise back for a third trial in 1917. This time the "second Joe Jackson," as he has been called, stuck. He began hitting the ball while at Hot Wells, Tex., on the spring training trip and he kept on hitting it in the National League. Cruise is a natural hitter. He looks like Joe Jackson, stands like him and hits with the same healthy, hearty swing. Cruise is a natural hitter, nothing more, nothing less. He takes a nice long swipe at the ball and hits it hard, though not quite so hard as "shoeless Joe."

Cruise is no spring chicken. He was late coming up, or maybe he, unlike most ballplayers, tells his real, not what Hub Perdue called his "official," age. So the Tarheel Terror admits that he was born on the farm near Sylacauga, Ala., in 1889. Cruise always was, and says he always will be, a farmer. He is strong for the soil and all his earnings have been invested in lands near that dear old Sylacauga.

Cruise played the usual amount of amateur and so-called "semi-professional" ball before he undertook to enter the professional fields. His first shot for money was in 1910 at Hattiesburg, Miss., then in the well-known Cotton States League. He batted something like .350 right from the start. New York and Detroit stuck in drafts for him and the Detroiters got him. They did not keep him long enough to know him and he returned to Chattanooga in the Southern Association, which is a Class AA league, the "major league" of the South.

TWENTY-ONE LOADS OF HAY ARE RECEIVED

Sold for from $16 to $19 a Ton—Peach Crop Will Be Late.

Heavy hay receipts was the outstanding feature in the local markets Wednesday, twenty-one loads being weighed at the city scales with the price ranging from $16 to $19. Five loads of corn were bought at $1.90 to $2 a bushel and seven loads of oats at $0.60 to $0.65 a bushel. Word had been received by Baum & Company from H. Baum that the crop of peaches, plums and pears in New York state will be three weeks late. He wires that there will be a large crop and prices reasonable. Fred Helsler, who is eighty years old, brought two loads of corn to Fort Wayne from his farm in Wells county, which brought him $225.10, the highest price he says he has ever received.

REDS ARE HERE FOR GAME WITH CENTRAL TEAM

Batteries for today's game: Cincinnati, Regan and Smith; for Fort Wayne, Cummins or Detrich and DeVillies.

Sherwood Magee, outfielder on the Cincinnati National league baseball club, was taken ill in his room at the Anthony hotel Wednesday morning. Dr. Edelvitch was called, but reported that the condition of Magee was not serious, but that it may keep him out of the game at League park.

The three Hooster boys, all of them celebrities in the national pastime, were among the names on the roster of the Cincinnati club which arrived here early for the Fort Wayne game. They were Eddie Roush, leading National league batsman and former star Federal league player, whose home is at Oakland City; Griffith, star right fielder, whose home is at Lafayette, and Smith, catcher, a Fort Wayne product, who until recently played with the Fort Wayne Central league club.

Smith caught in the game between Cincinnati and Philadelphia at Cincinnati Tuesday and has been in the regular line-up of the Reds consistently since joining the club. Smith is rated as one of the best players turned out in this city and local fans are anxious to see him perform in fast company.

The Reds, headed by Christy Mathewson, were in prime condition for the game today. The members of the club who are in the city are: Hal Chase, Eddie Roush, Sherwood Magee, Griffith, Groh, Smith, Cueto, Reuther, Kopf, Regan, Christenberry and Carl Finke, secretary of the club, and Hoskins, trainer.

The game was scheduled to start at 3:15 p. m. The line-up follows:

LOCAL BUYERS CAUSE OF WAR

Warsaw Cannery Promise

Suit Because Fort Wayne
Folks Are Too Active.

MANY TOMATOES
HAVE BEEN BOUGHT

Farmers Have Best of Argument, According to the Court's Decision.

(Special to The Sentinel.)

Warsaw, Ind., Sept. 19.—A legal war is threatened against farmers near Warsaw because of the activity of Fort Wayne people, who are coming to Warsaw in large numbers to purchase tomatoes.

The canning corporation of Cruikshank Brothers has delivered an ultimatum to farmers of the Warsaw region declaring that court action will be brought unless the swains quit allowing Fort Wayne citizens to take away tomatoes which the company declares that it has contracted for.

Thirty-six bushels of tomatoes were brought to Warsaw by Fort Wayne people, early this week and were shipped to Fort Wayne Cruikshank Brothers have been told.

It appears that the farmers have the best of the argument in the several legal cases involving the rights of the Reid, Murdoch and company, of Chicago, to claim all tomatoes raised by the agrarians of the Piercetion and Larwill region. The rights of Schuyler Menzie, one of the Piercetion farmers, to sell tomatoes to whomsoever he pleases, were sustained by the Kosciusko county court.

It was held that Menzie's contract was an executory agreement and that he had not been guilty of breaking his bond in selling tomatoes to people of Piercetion and Fort Wayne. Cases of other Piercetion and Larwill farmers, who have been legally attacked by the Chicago corporation, are similar to that of Menzie. It is thought that action in all cases will follow much the same course. Hearings on denunciations of the farmers in the other cases will go on during the remainder of the week.

In the meantime the company of Reid, Murdoch, through their representatives, are pursuing their original plans, as outlined last week and are keeping close watch on the farmers who have contracted with them to supply their factory at Piercetion with tomatoes, and if others are caught, suits will be filed against them as has been done in the cases already before the courts.

REALTORS MEET.

The first meeting of the year was held, Tuesday night, at the Commercial club of the members of the Port Wayne Real Estate exchange, when the nine directors of the organization gave a chicken dinner to the members. The meeting was devoted to the plans for attending the state meeting of realtors at South Bend, October 18 and 19. The fall meetings were resumed earlier this year because of the state convention, which is only four weeks off. Meetings will be held on each Tuesday night except on special occasions, such as next Tuesday, when a dinner will be given at the Country club.

A public pedro and bunco party will be held at 8 o'clock this evening in St. Andrew's new school hall.

AMERICANS ANSWER CALL TO THE COLORS

YOUNG MEN OF THE NATIONAL ARMY GO INTO CANTONMENTS Second Increment of Selective Service Boys is Moving Today for Scene of Training Labors.

WILL JOIN 45,000 ALREADY IN CAMPS

Washington, Sept. 19.—Three hundred thousand men of the national army today are on their way to sixteen cantonments to undergo an intensive training period preparatory for service overseas. Today's increments represents approximately 45 per cent of the total quota under the first call from nearly five thousand exemption boards. The transition from civilian life to military life was effected with a minimum of delay. In every section of the country the men called by the individual boards were assembled, placed under military discipline commanded by one of their own men selected as leader and assigned to special troop trains, no wren route to the mobilization camps. The new increment will join the first quota of 45,000 men called to the colors September 5. Because of obstacles encountered by the war department in procuring supplies, it is probable that some of the men will be only partially equipped on arrival. No attempt to completely outfit the units for war service will be made until just prior to the departure for France. Will Be Real Selective. Every effort will be made by the government to adapt the men of the selective draft forces to the branch of military work to which they are best suited by experience and natural aptitude. To carry out this purpose a corps of civilian experts trained in the service of great corporations in selection of men for special occupations will be appointed soon to make a similar appraisal of the enlisted men of the national army preparatory to the assignment of the men to the special units necessary in modern warfare. Clerks have been prepared to be filled out by the men showing exactly their experience and training and providing also a statement of their preferences as to the kind of work they will be called upon to do. If possible these cards will be supplemented by a personal estimate of the men by the civilian experts. This can be done only after a thorough general classification has been made possible through the card system as it would be too great a task to personally interview every man.

GREAT PROGRAM OF RECREATION IN ARMY CAMPS

Washington, Sept. 19.—The biggest recreational program ever staged in America, a continuous performance to last for the duration of the war, with an annual supporting fund of at least $14,000,000, started today at the sixteen national army cantonments. The country's best theatrical talent has been mobilized under the direction of Mark Klaw, to give free entertainments for the soldiers. The government activities were organized and the commission training camp activities appointed by Secretary Baker, with Raymond D. Fosdick as chairman. Co-operation of the largest recreational, educational and social service organizations in the country have been obtained. They include the Y. M. C. A., which appropriated $4,000,000; the Knights of Columbus, who have raised $3,500,000; the Playground and Recreation Association of America, which appropriated $3,500,000, and the Library Association of America, which is to provide libraries in all the cantonments from a fund of a million dollars. For a cantonment service in the camps a fund of $1,500,000 has been set aside. The Y. W. C. A. has arranged for rest houses in each cantonment, with Miss Katherine Sept, of the na-

NEWSPAPERS FOR ARMIES Each Camp and Cantonment to Have Its Weekly Publication. BEST TALENT OF NATION ENLISTED The President, the Colonel and Great Artists to Contribute.

Washington, Sept. 19.—Plans for publication of a soldiers' weekly newspaper in every national army and national guard camp beginning with the week of September 30, under the auspices of the national war council of the Y. M. C. A. were announced here today by John Stewart Bryan, publisher of the Richmond News-Leader, who arranged the details of co-operation among many other publishers which will make the work possible. Among contributors will be Col. Roosevelt and many of the best newspaper writers and cartoonists. Endorsed by President. President Wilson has endorsed the plan. The general management will be under the personal direction of Mr. Bryan and the co-operating publishers will compose an advisory board. The plan grew out of a conference in Washington last July at which Mr. Bryan was assigned by the war work council to visit all cantonments in the south. "It seemed hardly probable at first

BELGIUM MUST BE MADE FREE SAYS BERLIN JOURNAL Amsterdam, Sept. 19.—Vorwaerts, the socialist organ of Berlin, holding that the complete restoration of Belgium is corollary to the reestablishment of peace, declares: "Whether the German government remains deaf thereto, it is not only a question of power or policy but justice and conscience. No policy is truly wise that disregards the moral and legal factors in the life of nations. Despite the howling of the mailed fist politicians, we affirm that right is right and that Belgium has the right to its independence."

NO PARADE IS TO BE GIVEN Executive Committee of Patriotic Council Makes Announcement. BOYS LEAVE AT DIFFERENT TIMES Printed Address Will Be Handed to Each of 200 Conscripts.

Following a meeting of the executive committee of the council of patriotic service, together with the members of the conscription board and parade committee, it was announced that no parade or speaking would be given for the two hundred members of Uncle Sam's new army who leave Friday morning for Camp Taylor, Ky. Each of the boys, however, will be handed a speech of farewell, which is to be prepared for the printers at once. A farewell demonstration was given for all the members of the new army some time ago, and inasmuch as they will not all leave at the same time Friday, it was thought best not to attempt a demonstration such as was given to the various units that have already gone. Plans were discussed for a big meeting next Tuesday evening for the purpose of arousing greater activity and interest in the work of the patriotic council. Members of the new army from districts two and three will leave over the G. R. and L. and those from the country district and district No. 1 will be provided with a special train over the L. E. and W.

From District No. 1. Those who will make up the quota from district No. 1 follow: James C. Degree, William F. Boedeker, Robert L. Young, Frank Swanton, Carl L. Ertel, Paul J. DeWood, Mortie Turner, Walter W. Bur-lage, Elbert W. Williams, Ansel S. Fagus, Henry A. Dirks, Samuel J. Jones, Kiriaco Goros, Albert Justin Gessler, George Neal, Carl W. Rose, Jr., Ralph Roscoe Hawkins, Norman J. Holman, William H. Spith, Lawrence Ankenbruck, Denny Williams, Charles L. Reinking, David Lamley, John F. Badgett, Russel G. Bennett, Charles R. Smith, John Rider, Albert F. Schnorr, Tom Acoff, Clarence Dodd, Jerome J. Freistroffer, Joseph Kovasak, Samuel I. Wilkins, Robert H. Sommers, Paul G. Gombert, Arthur Fred Kraft, Darwin E. Fry, Guy Rudasill, Walter L. Dickens, Arch W. Shultz, Howard W. McDarby, Charles C. Miller, Berg Engblom, Alois J. Brink, Harlan Lanning, David Negebb, Howard E. King, Clarence A. Thompson, Sam F. Six men from the U-boats were taken prisoners. An armed British steamer in the North sea sank a German submarine which was shelling a neutral sailing vessel. The second submarine was sunk by a British torpedo boat destroyer while attacking an armed steamer.

HOPING TO END STRIKE Washington Officials Get a Flash of Hope in Frisco Fight. GOVERNMENT AND LABOR CONFERRING Efforts in San Francisco to Conclude the War Have No Results.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 19.—Labor department officials today expressed the opinion that there "is some prospect of adjustment soon" of the ship builders and iron workers' strike at San Francisco. Their estimate was based largely, it was said, upon a telegram received from Mr. Boyce at San Francisco, who is acting as conciliator. Mr. Boyce reported conferences last night and that he expected to resume them today. Urgent suggestion from the American Federation of Labor, however, that the entire Pacific coast should be considered a unit in determining wage scales for shipyard employees dimmed the hope of shipping board officials of settling independently the strike of ironworkers at San Francisco. Consequently the shipping board devoted more attention to solution of the difficulty arising out of a Seattle company's action in granting high union wage demands. Chairman Hurley, of the board, considered postponing his trip to the coast until he could confer with the general manager of the Seattle company due to arrive here

CROWDS IN TOWN TODAY Suburban Day Throngs Answer Fort Wayne's Invitation. FIRST BIG TRADE DAY IS SUCCESS Many Visitors Enjoy Ball Game and Theaters This Afternoon.

Bright skies and splendid means of travel brought thousands of "suburbanites" to Fort Wayne today to participate in the enjoyment and material benefits of the city's first great Suburban Trade Day. The immediate success of the project has turned the attention of the members of the association to preparations for next Wednesday, the second of the series of out-of-town trade days, and it is very probable that the second day will eclipse the first in point of real "specials" and the crowds who will come to take advantage of them. These specials will be fully announced in the columns of the newspapers, and the friends in other cities and in the farming districts are asked to keep a close "tab" on them. While the larger portion of the visitors this afternoon are in the stores, taking advantage of the day's special offerings and becoming acquainted with the salespeople, other crowds are enjoying the exhibition baseball game at League park, between the famous Cincinnati Reds, headed by Christy Mathewson, and the Fort Wayne

AMERICAN HERO IN FRANCE HAS TO JOIN COLORS New York, Sept. 19.—Under a decision by the New York city district board of appeals Herbert Dick Smith, a member of the famous Lafayette escadrille, must give up his duties as an air fighter with the French army and return to this country and enter the national army. Smith registered by mail. The only opportunity he has of getting permission to remain with the escadrille it was stated is a special ruling by Provost Marshal General Crowder at Washington.

CHICAGO MAYOR URGES ALL TO YIELD LOYALTY Comes to the Front With Proclamation Urging People to Stand Together for Their Beloved Land.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—Mayor William Hale Thompson, whose opposition to sending troops to France aroused comment all over the country, today issued a proclamation occasioned by the departure of selected men from Chicago to the Rockford cantonment. In the course of the preamble he says: "Whereas, it is the duty of all patriotic citizens to stand by our country in times of controversy with any other country and to show in an unmistakable way that the American people stand behind the army and the navy which represent the majesty of our government. "He calls upon citizens of the sixth German city, as he labelled Chicago some time ago, to show soldiers and sailors we are united in a common love for the blessings of our free government."

Summary of the Day's War News Rumania's army is continuing its activity on the Moldavian front and has won another success. Petrograd reports the occupation by Rumanian troops of a Teutonic position on a height near Grozecht. The Russian front proper is comparatively quiet, neither side apparently being engaged in any important operations. Reports from the British front in Flanders continue to mention only raids and artillery and airplane activities. Notwithstanding that virtually all the recent London official statements have been similarly lacking in records of major operations, the British casualty lists disclose there has been heavy fighting. Casualties on all fronts during the week ended yesterday, for instance, totalled more than 27,000, of which the killed numbered 4,890. Point is given these facts by the recent reports that despite the laconic

MEMBER OF FRENCH CHAMBER IS FACING A TREASON CHARGE Paris, Sept. 18.—Tuesday.—The procurator general of the appeal courts has addressed a communication to parliament asking for the suspension of immunity in the case of Deputy Louis Turmel. The chief procurator points out that Deputy Turmel gave three different explanations concerning the origin of the money found in his locker and further remarked that M. Gilbert, charged with investigation, twice served a subpoena on Turmel yesterday, but the latter ignored the summons under circumstances from which it is permissible to presume that Turmel's dealings in Switzerland, given by him as the source from which he drew the money that was found was of a fraudulent nature coming under the law prohibiting French citizens carrying on economic relations with enemy subjects. It is understood that the judicial authorities did not at first intend to prosecute Deputy Turmel. They desired first of all to obtain a sworn statement from him and to do this a charge was laid against "X" of trading with the enemy in connection with

The directors of the Swiss Federal bank, according to the telegram, declare that they never made any such mysterious payments to any one whatsoever and have never had any dealings with Turmel.

AMERICA IS NOT YET AWAKENED TO PERIL

First Lord of British Admiralty Gives Views to American Friend.

Parkersburg, W. Va., Sept. 19.—Belief that the end of the war is yet far off and that America has not fully awakened to its seriousness is expressed in a letter written by Sir Eric Geddes, first lord of the British admiralty, to George E. Ecker, of this city. Ecker was West Virginia manager for a Pittsburgh Lumber company at the time the present head of the British navy as a boy of 19 or 20 was tallying logs and inspecting lumber at Nicolette, near here. The letter in part follows: "I think we are a long ways from the end of the war. I think America is finding it a little difficult to realize—just as Great Britain in the early days of the war—that it is a long way between declaring war and putting your whole back into it; and that both determination and sacrifice are called for if the nation is going to acquit itself with credit, but I have no doubt at all that eventually America will do so.

"President Wilson is a great man and realizes what is wanted, and when the nation understands, as it does not yet understand, I have no doubt it will respond.

"It is a disadvantage which all democratic and peace loving people who have never planned for a big war, such as Great Britain and the United States, suffer from, that they realize slowly what war means. We realized it slowly even with the help of our heavy casualties in our small army in August 1914, but perhaps with the national imagination to help them, which is much stronger with you than with us, America may realize it more quickly."

had stopped residents of a suburb and insisted upon discussing the war. He was attired in a blue and white suit, a red shirt and a cream colored hat and sued shoes.

Lafayette, Ind., Sept. 19.—Doctors
Thomas Kendrew and William Donnelly, of Indianapolis, and Mrs. Ken-drew had a narrow escape from serious injury and perhaps death here this morning, when an automobile in which they were riding collided with a Wabash freight train. The Indianapolis people were coming down a street grade and did not see the train until they were on the tracks. Dr.
Kendrew jumped from the automobile and sustained a fractured right shoulder and was badly injured about the chest. He is a patient in a local hospital. Dr. Donnelly and Mrs.
Kendrew escaped injury. They were on their way to attend the physicians' convention in Chicago.

"On the other hand," says Mrs. McKoin, "New Veno flour makes the loveliest kind of white cakes. It will make white fluffy cakes, whereas some of the imported flour makes cakes that I would not dare exhibit. New Veno flour can be used for all purposes."

Tax Levy at Portland Will Be Reduced.

Portland, Ind., Sept. 19.—The Portland city tax levy proper, will be five cents less in 1918 than that paid in 1917, as shown by the taxing ordinance passed by the city council at the regular Monday night meeting. The total levy for the coming year is $1.27 on each $100 taxable property, not including the city library levy which is made by the library board proper. The levy for the maintenance of the library has been eight cents on the $100 in 1917 but it is understood that increased cost of books and coal necessitates an increase of this levy and the board contemplates making it ten cents for 1918. Granting that this is increased the amount contemplated it would bring the total city tax up to $1.37, or three cents lower than at present as the total city levy including the library tax is now $1.40 on the $100 taxable property.

PROVOKE CHARGE DISMISSED.

Woodburn, Ind., Sept. 19.—On motion of Prosecuting Attorney Frank A. Emrick, the provoke charge preferred by Marshal Ray E. Cairns against William Gernhart, sr., a former justice of the peace, was dismissed at a hearing here last evening. The two men had disagreed in an argument Sunday. The trouble arose over a juvenile case in which William Gernhart, jr., 15, son of the former justice, and Carl Winn, a boy of about the same age, were charged with stealing rabbits. Judge Eggeman had told Cairns to find out which one of the two boys was questioning young Gernhart in Louis Galt's restaurant when the former justice and father of the boy came in. The father ordered the officer to stop questioning the boy and accused him of being "crooked." The marshal placed Gernhart under arrest. After the prosecutor had given Gernhart a severe lecturing the charge was dismissed.

HUNTING FOR BROTHER.

Decatur, Ind., Sept. 19.—A sister of Tom Shannon, one time well known character here, came down from Allen county yesterday to get some trace of her brother, who is one of the heirs to an estate. He has been gone eight years during which time they have had no word from him. She found parties here who believed he was living in a shack on some ground that he purchased eight years ago along the reservoir near Celina, O., and she tried to get into touch with parties there who might know him. Shannon is about 45 years of age and was the "black sheep" of the family and when he lived here he was a frequent inhabitant of the jail. His family severed connection with him but must learn of his whereabouts in order to settle the estate of a relative.

FIRE AT WARSAW.

Warsaw, Ind., Sept. 19.—A small fire in the basement of the home of Mrs. Isabel Daubenspeck, on South High street, occurred Tuesday morning at 3:15 o'clock. Mrs. Daubenspeck, being alone in the house, was aroused and alarmed by smoke coming from the basement and not knowing the cause or extent of the fire, sent in a call to the fire department. On investigation, it was discovered that a few sticks of wood in the furnace room had caught, presumably from ashes on the floor, and had caused quite a bit of smoke which gave the appearance of a pretty big fire. The fire was soon extinguished and no damage was done.

GOES TO BLOOMINGTON.

Warsaw, Ind., Sept. 19.—Mrs. Lester Borgs left this morning for Bloomington, Ind., where she has accepted a position as secretary to Dean Hoffman and Assistant Dean Rawles, of the University of Indiana. The position is in the College of Liberal Arts, and was formerly held by a young lady with an A. B. degree. Several years ago Mrs. Borgs held a government position in the state house in Indianapolis and is very competent.

WINONA WOMAN DIES.

Winona, Ind., Sept. 19.—Mrs. Mary Sewell Young, aged 80 years, of Winona, died at her home at 11:30 o'clock Tuesday morning. She passed away peacefully while sleeping. Her husband died two years ago at Winona, where they lived for the past nine years. She leaves two daughters, Miss Elizabeth A. Young, who teaches geography in the Winona schools, and Miss Anne S. Young, teacher of astronomy at Holyoke, Mass.

BIG PARADE PLANNED.

Decatur, Ind., Sept. 19.—John T. Myers, chairman of the military committee of the council of defense, has completed arrangements for the celebration to be held in this city Thursday night of this week, for the forty-two men, who are to leave Friday morning for Camp Taylor, near Louisville.

Vincennes Doctor Rakes Up Ancient Filth to Make His Book.

(Staff Special.)
Vincennes, Ind., Sept. 19.—That Abraham Lincoln had negro blood, was a traitor and the worst "tyrant" the country has ever seen, that he was an infidel, blasphemous, and a liar—these are a few of the charges Dr.

Wilhelm T. Von Knappe, eminent homeopathic physician, makes in a pamphlet he has published, Von Knappe is under arrest on an indictment charging malicious libel.

Von Knappe, of Scotch descent, claims John Wilkes Booth was the patriot of his day, and that W. H. Seward wrote the Gettysburg speech. Ida M. Tarbell, Robert T. Lincoln, Charles M. Thompson, head of the history department of Illinois university; James M. Woodburn, head of the history department of Indiana university; Dr. Horace Ellis, state superintendent of public instruction of Indiana, and other eminent people are endorsed on the true bill, and depositions from them will probably be taken.

Von Knappe among other things charges:

That Lincoln's grandfather was a traitor during the revolution.
That Lincoln's mother had negro blood and was an ex-slave.
That Lincoln was a spittoon cleaner in a lawyer's office in Springfield, Ill.
That Lincoln was a pronounced traitor to the United States during the Mexican war.

Elaborate preparations for the event had been made, including the preparation of hundreds of floats in which the patriotic theme was dominant.

Large delegations of Odd Fellows from nearby states began to arrive here early in the day to take part in the parade and they continued to come in a continual stream throughout the morning. Hundreds of others from distant points came last night.

FITTS GIVES FITS TO GERMAN AGENTS

The Man Who Dug Up the I. W. W. Stuff for Uncle Sam Well Named.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 19.—"Chief," said some one to Attorney General Thomas Gregory, "I think it is time to put a stop to this I. W. W."

plotting against our government and its war-making powers. We ought to give them fits."

"All right," said Gregory, "let's give them fits." He did. He called in William C. Fitts, assistant attorney general, and Fitts did the rest. He started machinery in motion which resulted in a study of the I. W. W. agitation all over the country. Then he ordered wholesale raids upon I. W. W. headquarters in various states, seizure of their papers and arrest of their chiefs. He will be in charge of the prosecutions in case indictments are returned by federal grand juries.

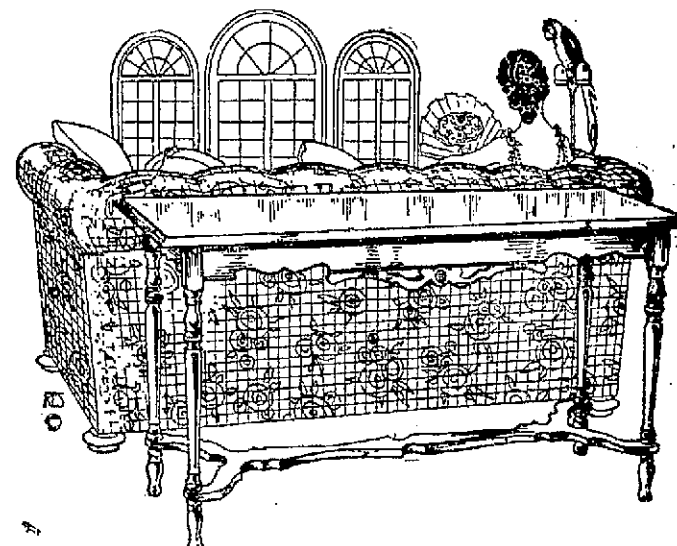

Fitts is a kindly-faced, genial Alabamian who is a democrat as well as a Democrat. There is no side to him. He is just a busy lawyer working for Uncle Sam, always to be seen when there is legitimate excuse to see him.

Although his thinning hair is gray and his dome high, the nemesis of the I. W. W. is only 51 years old. He was educated at the Southwestern Presbyterian university at Clarksville, Tenn., taking his law degree in the University of Alabama. Before coming here he had only held two offices, attorney general of Alabama from 1895 to 1900 and member of the Alabama constitutional convention in 1901.

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 19, 1917.

THE CITY MARKET PLACE.

The Fort Wayne public market has been gaining a deal of attention lately, but none too much. Indeed, it has had for some years too little attention of the sort just now bestowed upon it. Conditions that today provoke loud complaint have been noted for some years and differ merely in degree, not in kind, from conditions that quite awhile since had become an irritation.

The city market is a venerable and historic institution in Fort Wayne. It was established for a useful purpose that through a long period served precisely the need in exactly the way the circumstances of the times required. There was open and genuine competition in selling and buying and a trip to the public market was to good purpose and of substantial consequence. The established provisioners of the town were neither so numerous nor so well stocked as in this day and made little pretense of supplying what the open market, maintained for the mutual advantage of producers and consumers, had to offer. Today there is quite a different status of the provision business in respect of this. Grocers specialize in the fresh produce of the soil. A staple grocer is also quite as much a green grocer. So it now is that provision stores and the vendors contrive somehow to keep their produce on the same price levels that prevail in the groceries. There is no saving, no profit and little satisfaction of other sort—as for instance the surety of obtaining fresher green or other produce—on the market nowadays. For some years it has been noted that what was purchased on the market cost just about what similar things could be purchased for at the grocer. Added to absence of this advantage is the fact of certain disadvantages. The market must be visited that its offerings may be availed of. Your grocer serves you quite faithfully and much to your convenience when you use the telephone. He delivers your purchases. He advances you credit for a week or a month and frequently longer. This may be a bad thing for him and no good thing for you, but they are the almost universal practice and you like the way of it and are willing to pay for it, for of surety you do pay for it, as you must for any kind of service rendered you in a business transaction. The market affords you none of the conveniences, lazy luxury and habitual accommodation that the telephoned order, prompt delivery and unquestioned credit that are vouchsafed by your relations with your grocer and the market does not give you any advantage of price.

Why have a market if this be true? Why make a journey to market, paw for an hour or two over the already well-paved stuff in a half mile of stalls, pay the current city prices, spot the cash and tote your load home yourself if you gain nothing from it? We don't know. Do you? The city market used to be a place of bargaining and bargains. It has ceased to be anything of the sort. The prices there are in some respects exorbitant. Yesterday tomatoes sold on the city market for two dollars a bushel, while thirty miles away they could be bought for seventy-five cents in almost any quantity. Tomatoes can be cultivated at no greater cost here than in the next county. Does a haul from just beyond the rim of the city to the public market fairly represent the difference between seventy-five cents and two dollars—or two dollars and a half, which price obtained here a short time ago?

The city has invested some thirty thousand dollars in market houses that occupy real estate easily worth one hundred thousand dollars. The fundamental purpose of such a public institution is public benefit. The benefits to the buying public of this city seem to have vanished entirely. The market is maintained at a trouble and cost for which the stall rentals and market fees are a poor compensation. It more than once has been suggested that if the market is to be gone on with indefinitely as it has been in recent years with its sorry little conspiracies in restraint of trade and its palpable price-fixings and entire absence of advantages to them whose patronage are its excuse for being at all, we are not prepared to deny that there is sense and force in the suggestion.

THE DOER OF A GOOD WORK DEAD.

There has just died in this state a man who, without posing as a public benefactor, was nevertheless the author of a great benefaction and who, with no pretense that he was a philanthropist, at the same time established what has proved a great philanthropy.

Dr. Henry Baker Brown, founder and for almost forty-five years the active head of Valparaiso university, at Valparaiso, has passed away at the good age of 70, leaving as the monument of his life's effort one of the greatest schools in this country or any other. Valparaiso university may perhaps not rank with Yale or Harvard or Princeton or Johns Hopkins or Michigan and some others of America's great seats of learning in respect of the depth and finish of its work, but it is, notwithstanding, an excellent school and its enrollment is surpassed by only two or three institutions in the country. Its great merit throughout its history has lain in the fact that at a very low cost it put a sound, practical education within the reach of tens of thousands of young men and women with no resources but determination and ability to work. It was launched by Dr. Brown in 1873, as we recall, and began its work as a normal school, devoting its effort specially to the training of teachers. It has been developed into a university that prepares its students specially for many lines of endeavor.

It is interesting and instructive to understand that Valparaiso university is not a public or an endowed institution. It is sustained by the tuitions of its matriculates. To reflect that these tuitions have been greatly distinguished by their moderateness and that the university has not merely thrived upon them but has grown to be a vast institution with a large assemblage of expensive structures to house it and with a very large staff of teachers and an enrollment of something more than five thousand students is to get some understanding of the executive ability devoted to its management and an appreciation of the solid, useful character of the instruction it has imparted. An institution that did not put its students in the way of getting along in the world, of achieving useful careers and of contributing greatly to the general good never could have flourished and prospered and come to the magnitude and good repute that are the facts of Valparaiso.

This is said not by way of advertising Valparaiso university, though it surely is welcome to any good these humble words may do it, but as a merited tribute to the memory of a really great man who established a great institution of learning and wrought a most good work in the world. The fact of an institution where little money procured a great deal for the education and training of many thousands of useful men and women has been of some consequence in the life of today. Near half a century ago Dr. Brown, then a young Ohio school teacher, came to Indiana, bringing with him something like half the body of his first matriculates and opened the Valparaiso normal college. He had in his mind a big idea to try in a practical way. He began almost wholly without means. He died a day or two ago wealthy and leaving a vast school that in many ways is unique and in all ways is useful.

Prof. Scott Nearing has just been informed by a pizen minion of the law bearing a thoroughly Teutonic name that they don't want a doggone bit of him and his kind in Cincinnati, have interdicted his speech in that town and forbidden the owner of the hall where he was billed to light up for him on any account. Cincinnati's director of public safety may have a Teutonic name, but he's got a sturdy American spirit and doesn't use a great many words making clear that there will be no anti-government noise-making in the Queen City.

The kaiser has posted a reward of three hundred marks and a nice vacation to the German soldier who brings in to him the first American prisoner of war. He will doubtless be shocked to discover if many are fetched to the sublime presence what a whaling lot of them can hand the conversation right back to him in the choicest phrasing of his own tongue.

Kerensky is said to have just made himself the husband of an actress. The peerless Alex probably just wants to show Trouble how far he can go.

Russia as a republic sounds better and will be better if the people will begin to live up to the name of their political form.

The trouble with the Fort Wayne city market is the same trouble that afflicts much bigger business far and wide

COMING BACK.

The recent successful voyage of coal-laden barges up the Mississippi river to St. Paul, the promised shipments of ore cargoes from Minnesota, iron mines, by the same route downward to the Ohio river, and the recently declared purpose of those behind the project to equip another fleet for the shipment of oil, all combine to restore to the great river at least some of its lost prestige as a burden-bearer. It is not the fault of the river that it has not always been a greater factor in equalizing freight rates in the wonderful basin to which it has given its name. It has invited commerce since the days of De Soto, but the appeal has long been unheeded.—Christian Science Monitor.

OUT OF THE DARKNESS

KULTUR

(Christian Science Monitor.)

For three years the world has heard the word Kultur used with a frequency which has caused it to accept it almost as a matter of course. Yet it is doubtful if even yet it attaches to it the meaning with which it is weighted in Bonn or Jena. In the English language culture means simply the cultivation of the human mind so as to produce a certain intellectual refinement. And this is the meaning the ordinary speaker of English is apt mentally to read into the word Kultur. But the meaning of Kultur to the German mind is something entirely different. It may be summed up almost as the law of the hive. In other words it is the theory that the state is the manifestation of the divine idea.

No man ever put this more clearly than Heinrich von Treitschke, the very high priest of Kultur. The essence of the state, he insists, is power. As a result, it follows that the ideal of self-sacrifice ends with the individual, and does not apply to the state, since there is nothing higher than the state to which the state can sacrifice itself. Thus the highest duty of the state, like that of the hive, is one of self-conservation. Out of this, then, inevitably grows the distinction, Treitschke himself insists upon, between private and public morality. The moral law incumbent on the individual is abrogated in the person of the state, for the state being power has no law save that of self-preservation or self-assertion. Owing to this the arch political crime is weakness. Weakness in the name of the state is the sin against the Holy Ghost.

Anybody who grasps what this means will have no difficulty whatever in unveiling the mystery of the German exhibition of frightfulness during the present war. The individual must not repudiate his signature to a lease or a bond, but the state may regard a treaty, as in the case of the Belgian guarantee, as "a scrap of paper." The individual must not ignore the law of property or trespass, but the state may invade a country, as in the case of Belgium, which it is pledged to defend, and seize the property of that nation for its own purposes. The individual must not commit murder, but the state is entirely exempt from such restrictions, and may take life individually, as in the case of Miss Cavell, or in the mass, as in the case of the passengers on the Lusitania, without compunction. This does not, of course, mean that the people of Germany are peculiarly cruel, or that they are troubled with a double dose of what the world terms original sin. But it does mean that they have delivered themselves over to a political philosophy which is immoral in its theory and inhuman in its practice. The apostle of Kultur, however, does not view it from this standpoint at all. He has worked out his theory with the exactness of a quadratic equation. In time of war the one mind is the General Staff. If the General Staff says, "Sink without trace," sink without trace it must be, just as, if the General Staff decides on deportations, deportations there must be. The idea must be right and must be obeyed, even if the world perishes under the demonstration of it, because the General Staff has so decided.

Now, in practice, Kultur is the application of the neo-Darwinism to politics. It was the apostle of Kultur who first dreamed of applying the law of natural selection to the state. Natural selection is the theory that nature eventually chooses and preserves the types best adapted to her purpose. Man, then, to the believer in Kultur, is entirely subject to the law of evolution. It is divided up into races and organizations all committed to the law of struggle. Since, however, both the types and organisms are irreconcilable, the remorseless and pitiless struggle must continue until nature selects, through victory over the others, the fittest type and the most perfect organization. The theory of the German professors, then, is that the German race is the fittest to survive, and as such has been selected by nature, and that this being so, its Kultur or form of political organization must, by the will of nature, be imposed, with the same ruthlessness with which the animal or the plant struggle for supremacy, upon the rest of the world. Such a struggle is to the death, and so just as physical nature knows no mercy nor compromise, so no mercy nor compromise must be shown by the state. Mercy, compromise, these are evidences of weakness, and as such, in the words of Treitschke, the sin, in politics, against the Holy Ghost. It is easy to see from this how the professor, as well as, even more than, the soldier, and the merchant equally with the Junker, have been able to accept and justify scraps of paper, Lusitania sinkings, deportations, and even the most sanguinary holocaust of German battalions on the battlefield. War is brutal, but it is nature's way of conducting the struggle. The fittest must survive, and to achieve the right to survive the hive must send its battalions, if necessary, in dense formations up to the muzzle of the machine guns in the trenches. If there is this mercilessness for the German variety of the species, destined to prevail for the purpose of saving the species by impressing Kultur on the other varieties, how can it be expected that mercy should be shown to those varieties? It is nature's method of selection, and really needs no defense from men. It is the law of the hive, and because of this it is futile and unjust to blame the Queen Bee, or to make the Queen Bee the scapegoat, if the mixedness of the metaphor may be forgiven, for the hive.

The promised land of the new dispensation, then, is to be Mittel-Europa, and the chosen people the German inhabitants thereof. The pure Germans would not be sufficient to impose Kultur upon mankind, and therefore the first step is to bring the other hives in its neighborhood under the influence of Kultur. Friedrich Naumann, in his well-known book "Mittel-Europa," explains how this is to be done. "All the traditional separatism of these lands," he writes, "must be so effaced in the stress of the great war as to make the idea of union tolerable." There will, he admits, no doubt be strong opposition to the new state in Austria and Hungary, but the union, in spite of this, is inevitable. There is no chance about it, he declares, it is a necessity. The world knows what is meant when a German, a Magyar, a Pole, or a Czech is spoken of, but the Mid-European type still remains to be developed, though it is in the process of formation. Round the German spirit there is to grow up this Mid-European Kultur which will later be imposed upon the barbarian outside, if necessary by the sword. In plain English, just as the Muhammadans started out from Mecca to impose the religion of the Prophet on humanity with a scimitar, so the German is to start out from Potsdam to impose the religion of Kultur on humanity with a machine gun. For be it remarked, Kultur is a religion in itself. Herr Naumann makes this plain enough. "When Bismarck's empire made its peace with the Pope and the party of the Center," he writes, "the Protestant character of the Hohenzollern Emperors became an unofficial private affair of those who, as wearers of the crown, were above creeds." In other words, the state being superior to the human sense of morality, being in short a religion in itself, the ruler of the state, though he may continue in an unofficial way to describe himself as a Protestant, is placed above a creed. The new empire, as such, can have no special creed, and is unable, as such, to have any. In precisely the same way there is no reason in the world why there should be any religion in the world. Given such premises, there is only one argument which has a chance of being listened to in reply. It is that "Wayland Smith" can swing a heavier hammer than Thor.

with his colossal hammer, would tear across the Rhine to smash in pieces the Gothic cathedrals. Often, in the past few years, as they have watched the German shells dropping through the roof or splintering the carvings of the great Church of St. Remi, in Rheims, must the people of Champagne have thought of this warning, and have realized that there was nothing for it but to accept the advice of the poet, and to remain on guard with their rifles on their shoulders.

PRICE FIXING.

(Indianapolis News.)

The government has already fixed a price on wheat and on coal at the mines. Copper and steel prices are to be set soon, and the sugar men have voluntarily placed their business under government regulation. Whether the plan of price fixing is to be extended indefinitely depends on the success of the policy as applied to these commodities and on whether or not an attempt is made to hold up the public through speculation or combination in those lines not now subject to government regulation. There is a strong agitation for the extension of the price-fixing principle to include all necessities.

Regardless of whether or not this would be in the public interest, it is important that some policy should be decided on as quickly as possible. The effect of the uncertainty as to the government's policy will be to check business. Complaints are already being heard from business men and producers, who, in some cases, do not care what course is taken, but are keenly interested in knowing which one will be pursued. The merchant hesitates to buy a stock of canned goods, of coffee, of dry goods or any other article of common consumption, because he does not know whether the government is to fix a price on these goods or not. Uncertainty also exists in the mind of the farmer who is planning for next year's operations. If the price of the 1918 wheat crop is to be fixed, and the price of corn left to establish itself, he may find it more profitable, with corn in some places already exceeding the price of wheat, to plant corn in the place of wheat. If the corn price is to be fixed, he would like to know what the price is to be.

Stock breeders, too, and practically every other producer of necessities, from brooms to berries, are interested in knowing just how far the government is going to go in its price-fixing policy, so that they can adjust their business accordingly. It is to be hoped that a decision will be reached and made public soon.

City Civil Engineer Randall this morning staked out the site for the new St. Peter's church, on Warsaw street. The contract has been let to J. Schler, the second lowest of five bidders. Mr. Schler's bid was $65,894.

The 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Wright, of Home avenue, South Wayne, fell into a vault last evening and narrowly escaped suffocation. His mother discovered his perilous position and extricated him just as he was about to expire.

The little son of Dr. Neiswonger, of Calhoun street, wandered away from home last evening, but was found later by the police. A 4-year-old son of Mr. Figel, of North Harrison street, with the 4-year-old daughter of a neighbor, left home yesterday afternoon and were not found until 10 o'clock last night.

Washington, Sept. 19.—President Wilson has issued a proclamation calling upon the school children of the nation to do their part in the war by joining the Junior Red Cross to assist in the merry work of the senior organization.

The president says the children's branch of the Red Cross will give an opportunity for relief work for the benefit of both the community and country; will teach how to save in order that suffering children elsewhere may have the chance to live, and will make possible the best work in the great cause of freedom to which we have all pledged ourselves. The proclamation follows:

To the school children of the United States: A proclamation: The president of the United States is also president of the American Red Cross. It is from these offices joined in one that I write you a word of greeting at this time when so many of you are beginning the school year.

The American Red Cross has just prepared a junior membership with school activities in which every pupil in the United States can find a chance to serve our country. The school is the natural center of your life. Through it you can best work in the great cause of freedom to which we have all pledged ourselves.

Our junior Red Cross will bring to you opportunities of service to your community and to other communities all over the world and guide your service with high and religious ideals. It will teach you how to save in order that suffering children elsewhere may have the chance to live. It will teach you how to prepare some of the supplies which wounded soldiers and homeless families lack. It will send to you through the Red Cross bulletins the thrilling stories of relief and rescue. And best of all, more perfectly than through any of your other school lessons, you will learn by doing those kind things under your teacher's direction to be the future good citizens of this great country which we all love.

And I commend to all school teachers in the country the simple plan which the American Red Cross has worked out to provide for your co-operation, knowing as I do that school children will give their best services under the direct guidance and instruction of their teachers. Is not this perhaps the chance for which you have been looking to give your time and efforts in some measure to meet our national needs?

WOODROW WILSON, President.

In a letter to Dr. H. N. MacCracken, president of Vassar college, in charge of the junior organization, the president has expressed his great interest in the movement, saying he thinks the children "will all look back on the work they are undertaking as a happy circumstance of their school days."

Plans are under way in co-operation with the boards of education of various states for launching membership campaigns. Schools are to be recruited as units with membership fees of 25 cents for each pupil. The juniors will aid in the making of the simpler articles and supplies needed in the hospitals abroad.

USE KEROSENE IN A FORD.

Made Possible by New Device—More Power, More Mileage, Less Cost.

"Gimme f' galins uh coal oil." "Hev you gotta can?" "Yeah, but I can't bring it in here." "Well, what yuh got, anyway? I can't be kiddin' 'round here all day." "Wy, ya nut, I use it in my Ford. That's thuh can. Just bring it out an' dump it in."

This little dialogue preceded the acquaintance of the gasoline service station man with the K. M. C. Transformer, the "latest thing" on the market for lowering the operating cost of Ford cars.

Invented by a Peoria, Ill., man, George McFarland by name, the K. M. C. Transformer takes the place of the standard Ford carburetor and manifold and permits the car to operate on pure kerosene with an efficiency equal or greater than that which is obtained by the use of gasoline.

The device is no larger than the gasoline carburetor and manifold and consists of a new manifold and fuel feeding attachment. The equipment also includes a small tank of nearly two gallons capacity in which gasoline for starting purposes is carried. In operation gasoline is used only for a few minutes in starting or until the transformer is heated. Then by pressure on a foot button, installed in the driver's compartment, the feed is changed from gasoline to kerosene and that fuel is used exclusively thereafter.

The K. M. C. Transformer Co., 814 North Capitol avenue, Indianapolis, are the Indiana distributors for this remarkable attachment.

Mrs. McKoin Prefers The McDougall Kitchen Cabinet

Mrs. McKoin, the famous Southern cook who conducts the Sentinel Cooking School during this week, will use a McDougall Kitchen Cabinet. Mrs. McKoin has used practically every other Kitchen Cabinet made in the United States—and now she uses ONLY the McDougall.

"I believe," says Mrs. McKoin, "that the McDougall has conveniences that are superior to all other makes. Of course, any Kitchen Cabinet has its good features, but the McDougall embodies practically all of the worthy points of the others and is by far more efficient."

Eventually—Why Not Now?

The Auto-Front Curtain, while only one of the many features of the McDougall Cabinet, is particularly noteworthy. On the touch of a catch it drops completely out of sight. It leaves no open grooves or slots to catch dirt and gives full use of the table top at all times.

You can have one of these McDougall Kitchen Cabinets delivered to your home for a small cash payment. The balance of the purchase price can be paid at the rate of $1.00 per week if you so desire. Make up your mind not to go another week without a McDougall.

They say, "Eventually Gold Medal Flour—Why Not Now?" The same thing might be said about the McDougall Cabinet, too. Why not take advantage of this offer and do both of these things NOW? With flour at its present price isn't it worth while considering this offer?

Miss Maribel Olds and Miss Nellie Wilt gave an informal breakfast this morning at half past 9 o'clock at the Country club in honor of Miss Mildred Bowser and Mrs. Clifford Bornschein. Covers were laid for a few intimate friends and included Miss Bowser's guests, Misses Marjorie Howland, of Omaha, and Hermine Warnings, of Petersburg, Ill.

Mrs. L. E. Bowser, of East Pontiac street, gave a party of very lovely planning this afternoon to compliment her niece, Miss Mildred Bowser before her wedding. Miss Bowser's friends were considered in the invitation and they took their workbags along to keep their fingers busy as they visited and enjoyed the perfect weather and the attractive home in which they were guests. Pink and white gladioli decorated the roomy porch and pink and white asters the living room. Covers for eighteen were laid in the dining room for the luncheon and the table was decorated in pink and white roses, daisies, and baskets tied with pink tulle bows and place cards of pink and white design. As much as possible pink and white appeared in the menu served. Miss Marjorie Howland and Miss Hermine Warnings were visiting guests.

Miss Helen Loos, of West DeWald street, is in Chicago, visiting friends for a week.

Mrs. Frank Randall, of Broadway, is entertaining her sister, Mrs. W. E. McDermott, of Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Edna F. Nelson, of Carolina street, will attend the fair in Hicksville, Ohio, on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Meyer, of Madison street, left on Wednesday for a visit in Chicago with relatives.

on her way to Washington to join her husband.

Mrs. H. B. McLeod, of Auburn, arrived in the city today for a few days' visit with Mr. and Mrs. Will Leedy, of Edgewater avenue.

Reynold Eyzman, a graduate of the 1916 class of the Fort Wayne high school leaves in a few days for Purdue university for a course of study.

A teagown is rarely what it ought to be, but this one is surely an exception. It is almost a dress, but is as loose and comfortable as a boudoir gown.

Sidney Carnahan and Huston Barnett will return on Thursday to Howland street, where they will be attending school and new pupils to enter this year are Ned Averill and Larry Fletcher.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Tolan, of Hoagland avenue, have as guests Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Willett, of Indianapolis. They will all spend tomorrow in Kendallville.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Scheffer, of Nashville, Tenn., were guests on Tuesday of their aunt, Mrs. Catherine Scheffer, and other relatives, who are Capt. John Scheffer and Ed and Frank Evans and their families.

Paris has done many weird things with the teagown with the passing years, but this winter, sobered by the war, she sends to women readers of The Sentinel an undraped but graceful creation.

Mrs. Charles Geller, who was Miss Margaret Esq. before her marriage, was the honor guest on Tuesday evening at a company of young people whom Miss Esther Hofer invited to her home for a good time. Singing and a game of progressive lunco were enjoyed and the hostess served delicious refreshments.

A beautiful day attracted many women to the Country club on Wednesday afternoon at the weekly social gathering. Mrs. W. M. Griffin and Mrs. C. J. Schow arranged for a luncheon for those who wished to be there early, and late in the afternoon Miss Margaret Hanna gave one of her illustrated bird talks.

The South Side Reading club held its first meeting this week and twelve of the fifteen members participated and enjoyed a banquet at the Central cafe, West Wayne street, at 8 o'clock. Toasts responded to were by Mrs. George Feustal, president, on "Memorabilia," Mrs. Allen Courtney, on "The Personnel," Mrs. Glenn K. Knauss, on "Our Motto" and Mrs. Noah Zehr, on "Our Aim and What the Future Holds."

Dr. W. D. Calvin was given a surprise party on Tuesday evening by members of his "first aid" classes, who were accompanied by several gentlemen making in all about sixty guests. The gathering was to honor Dr. Calvin's departure to the field of war and Mrs. Calvin, who was in the secret, had arranged beautiful decorations for the evening and there were refreshments and a gift for the doctor in the way of subscriptions for a year to his favorite magazines.

Miss Clara Marguerite Nichter, of 724 Walnut street, was honored by a beautiful pre-nuptial party last evening given at her home, because of her approaching marriage to Clement Schneider, Jr. The low was the coloring of the decoration and a wedding bell and ribbons and flowers were prettily arranged for the evening. The guests were Misses Anna Huhn, Linda Gruber, Helen Noll, Anna Schneider, Mary Schneiders, Mary Pelletier, Matilda Noll, Beatrice Ottenweller, Agnes Gruber, Marie Henry, Gertrude Kress, Laura Rekers, Anna Huhn, Loretta Heit, Elizabeth Merklein, Helen Houg, Bertha Nichter and Mrs. J. H. Orth.

There will be a meeting of the executive board of the Indiana State Federation of Clubs at the Anthony hotel on Thursday to discuss plans and make more definite arrangements for the coming convention of the organization which is to be held in this city on October 23. Mrs. C. R. Fairbank, president of the federation, will entertain the ladies at dinner at the hotel.

Non-Partisan League.

A non-partisan league meeting will be held on Thursday evening in the Hanna school. Mr. Freudenticht will explain the use of the voting machine and there will be a machine there for demonstration. Women can register also, if they have not yet done so.

At the Cooking School.

Naturally even "the best of cooks" can learn something new, so when Mrs. McKoin, of Nashville, Tenn., who is conducting a series of lessons in Elks' temple this week, under the auspices of this paper and the Woman's Club league, struck a responsive chord, when she said, "I don't suppose I know any more than many of you, but I may have some ideas that are different." And before she was through demonstrating the various meats and fruits prepared and which the visitors pronounced "fine," she made her words good. Mrs. McKoin also said that if anyone has a good recipe or way of doing things that was new to her she would be glad to hear about it, for this cooking school is a helping school as well as a demonstrator.

Mrs. McKoin made use of the cinnamon drop, so dear to the heart of every child, and combined apples and bananas in a new way. The candy mints may also be used in combination with apples instead of the cinnamon candy. The directions for cooking meat were practical and modern and Mrs. McKoin's pleasant way of talking and easy way of doing what she has to do were very agreeable. Salads today and cakes tomorrow are equally interesting topics.

Thursday Cake Day.

On Thursday Mrs. McKoin will demonstrate some of the famous cakes which she makes for elaborate social and other occasions in the north and east. She will teach the recipe of the decorative icing, and show the ladies how to make the famous paper tubes. The Thursday audience will have a genuine treat in the form of ice cream which will be served to every lady in the auditorium. Mrs. McKoin is a staunch advocate of a good ice cream as a part of the menu; ice cream which comes up to standard is a food according to Mrs. McKoin's advocacy, and besides being a food, it is easily served and comparatively inexpensive. The well known Farnas ice cream will be used in the Thursday demonstration, and Mrs. McKoin will show some interesting statements as the result to her analysis of the food ingredients in the ice cream.

Merchants Co-Operate.

The success of The Sentinel cooking school is in no small part due to the very fine co-operation that is being given by the local firms. The Hadley Furniture company have supplied Mrs. McKoin's kitchen cabinet, which is her favorite, and which she uses in every city where she goes. As an inducement to the housewives of Fort Wayne, to install a McDougall kitchen cabinet without delay, the Hadley Furniture company are offering a fifty-pound sack of flour with each cabinet sold during the week of The Sentinel's cooking school. Besides the kitchen cabinets, Hadley's have supplied Mrs. McKoin with tables and refrigerator, while the Northern Indiana Gas company installed a Detroit Javel range for her use. Another contribution that is much appreciated at the cooking school is the Packard motor-driven piano furnished by the Packard Piano company for the entertainment of ladies who come early, procure the front seats and knit while they wait for the program to begin.

The first day of The Sentinel free cooking school was a big success from every viewpoint. The attendance was large, the big auditorium being well filled with Fort Wayne housewives—all eager to learn some new wrinkle in the art of cooking and intensely interested in the wonderful things Mrs. McKoin said and did.

Mrs. McKoin proves to be a charming lecturer and entertainer as well as an able demonstrator. Coming from the south, where good cooking is one of the prime traditions, Mrs. McKoin's ability was a foregone conclusion. But Mrs. McKoin is personally fascinating, being of the southern type that is famous for hospitality, and her thoughtfulness for her audiences, together with her demonstrations of scientific, modern blending, preparation and cooking of foods and attractive methods of serving, were a genuine delight to Tuesday's audience, and Mrs. McKoin's popularity with Fort Wayne ladies was established from the outset. Mrs. McKoin at all times kept in prominent view her purpose of economizing—even to the saving of every bread crumb.

Breads Today.

The second day of the series is bread day, and Mrs. McKoin today made nut bread from bread, corn bread and white bread. All of these demonstrations were carried out with the greatest ease and expediency and each recipe was strikingly economical. Today was the first opportunity that the Fort Wayne ladies had to see the famous corn meal, so favored in the south, and the absence of sweetening in corn bread was noticeable. Mrs. McKoin used the well known New Veno flour in her breads, and at this juncture she spent some time on the topic of flour. "There are two kinds of flour on the market," said the lecturer, "the native soft wheat, such as is this New Veno, and the northern or western hard wheat flour. We southern cooks will have nothing but the soft wheat. This New Veno flour from winter wheat is really superior for cakes and for breads. As I use it I find it makes a whiter and nicer bread." Mrs. McKoin stated that the New Veno flour was one of the best milled of any soft wheat flour she had ever used.

On Thursday Mrs. McKoin will demonstrate some of the famous cakes which she makes for elaborate social and other occasions in the north and east. She will teach the recipe of the decorative icing, and show the ladies how to make the famous paper tubes. The Thursday audience will have a genuine treat in the form of ice cream which will be served to every lady in the auditorium. Mrs. McKoin is a staunch advocate of a good ice cream as a part of the menu; ice cream which comes up to standard is a food according to Mrs. McKoin's advocacy, and besides being a food, it is easily served and comparatively inexpensive. The well known Farnas ice cream will be used in the Thursday demonstration, and Mrs. McKoin will show some interesting statements as the result to her analysis of the food ingredients in the ice cream.

Merchants Co-Operate.

The success of The Sentinel cooking school is in no small part due to the very fine co-operation that is being given by the local firms. The Hadley Furniture company have supplied Mrs. McKoin's kitchen cabinet, which is her favorite, and which she uses in every city where she goes. As an inducement to the housewives of Fort Wayne, to install a McDougall kitchen cabinet without delay, the Hadley Furniture company are offering a fifty-pound sack of flour with each cabinet sold during the week of The Sentinel's cooking school. Besides the kitchen cabinets, Hadley's have supplied Mrs. McKoin with tables and refrigerator, while the Northern Indiana Gas company installed a Detroit Javel range for her use. Another contribution that is much appreciated at the cooking school is the Packard motor-driven piano furnished by the Packard Piano company for the entertainment of ladies who come early, procure the front seats and knit while they wait for the program to begin.

Little Francis Carpenter, who played the irrepressible and valiant Jack, and Mrs. Virginia Lee Corbin, who appeared in the role of the Princess Regina, were the principals of a cast of more than 1,300 boys and girls.

The men of Lakeside and Forest Park will be entertained Friday night at the Crescent Avenue Evangelical church by the Men's Bible class. Rev. Cole, of Huntington, will be the principal speaker.

There are those who attend a performance of Barrie's exquisite "Peter Pan," as often as opportunity offers. The writer hereof is one of them. Therefore, a word of genuine appreciation is intended in remarking that "Jack and the Beanstalk" in film form, as presented at the Globe theater, possesses some, at least, of the spirit of the Barrie classic.

While not yielding one jot of the rare charm of "Peter Pan," which, perhaps, of its kind, is never to be equaled, it may be a fair appreciation to state that "Jack and the Beanstalk" is the "Peter Pan" of the films. Most of all "Jack and the Beanstalk" will delight children. But, again, as in the case of "Peter Pan," there will be those among adults, still possessing a wistful recollection of young beef. Have bone taken out and roast rolled. Place in baking pan and grease well with bacon drippings; season with salt and cayenne. Cook and bake in medium oven, allowing about twenty minutes to each pound. When done to your taste, remove from pan. To meat juice add two table-spoons flour, stir until browned well and free from lumps; add two cups boiling water, let boil and season with salt, pepper and one teaspoon Worcestershire sauce.

Veal Cutlets—Boil shank of veal until meat falls from bone. Grind meat and season well with salt and cayenne. Add one cup rich cream sauce. Set aside to get perfectly cold and firm. Form into cutlets. Dip in egg and crumbs. Fry in deep fat.

Stuffed Onions—Scoop out centers of medium sized white onions. Boil until nearly done, that is, don't let them get too soft. Place in a shallow pan, fill center with crumbs and ground meat seasoned well, put bit of butter on top and bake twenty minutes.

Baked Peaches with Rice—Select large halves yellow peaches, place in center of each a bit of butter, sprinkle with cinnamon and sugar. Bake in shallow pan surrounded with juice from can of peaches. Cook rice in double boiler until dry. Turn out on platter. Serve with peaches around middle of rice.

Head Lettuce with Red Dressing—Make a red dressing by first making a French dressing—that is, 4 table-spoons oil to one of vinegar or lemon juice. Salt and cayenne. Beat well together, then add ½ cup tomato catsup. Serve on head lettuce.

Breaded Pork Chops with Cinnamon Apples—Peel and core six or eight medium sized apples, fill centers with bananas and cook in cinnamon syrup until apples can be pierced with a straw. Make a syrup of 1½ cups of sugar, 1 cup of water, ½ cup of cinnamon drops. Put on stove and let boil until it is syrup when it is ready for apples. Garnish platter of breaded pork chops with apples and parsley.

Stuffed Egg Plant—Parboil egg plant whole until tender, scoop out center of each half, leaving half shells to bake in. Chop the pulp or center and mix with 2 table-spoons ground meat, ½ cup bread crumbs and 1 cup of Creole sauce. Put in shells and cover with bread crumbs and butter. Bake in moderate oven 20 minutes.

Wednesday's Recipes.

Following are the bread recipes: Yeast, 1½ cups lukewarm milk, 1½ cups lukewarm water, 2 table-spoons sugar, 5 cups Nutri-Meal, 3 cups New Veno flour, 1 table-spoon shortening, 1 table-spoon salt. Dissolve yeast and sugar in lukewarm liquid, add 3 cups of meal and beat well; then add rest of meal, gradually the flour, shortening and salt; mix well; cover and let rise in warm place free from draft until double in bulk—about 2 hours; mould into loaves, kneading it well into shape; place into 2 well-greased pans, filling them two-thirds full. Let rise until dough fills pan, about 1 hour. Bake 1 hour in moderate oven.

Brown Bread—One and one-half cups Graham flour, 1½ cups New Veno corn meal, 1 table-spoon salt, 1 table-spoonful soda dissolved in pint of buttermilk, ¾ cup dark molasses.

Nut Bread—One egg, 1 scant cup sugar, 1 cup sweet milk, 1 table-spoonful salt, 4 cups New Veno flour, 4 table-spoonsful Calumet baking powder, ¾ cup nuts.

Frozen Cucumber Salad—Three cucumbers, ground or grated, 2 stalks celery, 1 table-spoonful grated onions, 1 table-spoonful horseradish, 1½ table-spoonful salt, dash of cayenne, 1 pint of whipped cream dressing, mix all together, put in mold. Pack in ice and salt for three hours.

Corn Meal Soffie—Cook one-half cup corn meal in 1 pint of hot water until thickened, add salt, yolks of 4 eggs, singly, and add last the stiffly beaten whites. Bake in moderate oven in earthen baker preferably, until light and nicely browned and serve at once from the baking dish, either with butter or meat gravy. This is delicious for breakfast.

Corn Meal Muffins—Sift together ½ cup corn meal and ¼ table-spoonful soda, a little salt. Beat 2 egg yolks until light, add 1 pint buttermilk and pour into meal. Stir in 2 table-spoonsful soft butter just before baking. Bake in hot muffin rings 15 minutes.

Southern Soda Biscuit—One-fourth table-spoonful soda, 2 cups New Veno flour, 1 table-spoonful Calumet baking powder, ¾ table-spoonful salt, ¾ cup buttermilk, 2 table-spoonsful shortening.

Roller Roast—Select rib roast of younger days, who will find vast amusement and entertainment in it.

HOW TO SAVE PERISHABLE FOOD FOR USE NEXT WINTER

Acting in co-operation with the government in the national food conservation campaign The Sentinel will from day to day present its readers with recipes and suggestions for preserving perishable fruits and vegetables.

Apple Syrup from Windfalls.
Put windfall apples through cider press.
To 7 gallons of the cider add 5 ounces of precipitated chalk (carbonate of lime) sold at any drug store.
Boil in a kettle or vat vigorously for 5 minutes.
Pour liquid into glass jars or pitchers. Let stand 8 hours, or until perfectly clear.
Pour clear liquid into preserving kettle. Do not allow sediment at bottom to enter.
Add 1 level teaspoonful of lime carbonate and stir thoroughly.
Boil down rapidly to a clear liquid 1-7 of the original volume.
Test—Pour a little into cold water; should have the consistency of maple syrup; should not harden.
Pour into fruit jars or pitchers. Place containers in buckets or wash-boiler of hot water and allow to cool slowly.
Pour the syrup in hot jars.
Place rubbers and tops in position, not air-tight.
Place jars on false bottom in wash-boiler.
Keep tops of jars submerged 2 inches. Put cover on washboiler and let water boil 15 minutes.
Begin to count when water starts to boil.
Remove jars and make covers air-tight. Invert jars to discover leaks.
If leaks are found, change rubbers and boil again 5 minutes.

ONE WAY TO CLEAN YOUR SILVER AT HOME QUICKLY

Flat silver may be cleaned in any aluminum basin, but large pieces like teapots and trays require a utensil big enough to hold water to cover them—usually an aluminum preserving kettle will do. Fill the vessel with water and stir in bicarbonate of soda until the water will dissolve no more. A grain or two of powder in the bottom of the pan will tell when this stage has been reached. Then immerse the silver, arranging it so that each piece touches the pan, but no two pieces touch each other. Set the dish on the stove and keep the water thoroughly hot. A blackish deposit will adhere to the sides of the aluminum dish, but the silver will be as clean as when taken from the jeweler's shop.

Chemists call this an "electrolytic" process. It is not injurious to the silverware.

TREMENDOUS CABBAGE CROP.

The prospects are that there will be a large cabbage crop and it should be saved by storage in cellars or in banks or pits.
The United States department of agriculture has issued a bulletin telling how to arrange storage places. The bulletin is distributed free of charge to anyone asking for it. Send for Farmers' Bulletins 433 and 579.

How to Cure Chronic Constipation.
In both young and old the most important item in restoring the bowels to a natural condition is to establish a habit of having the bowels move at a certain time each day whether there is an inclination or not. NEPHEW OF JOFFRE.

Plainfield, N. J., Sept. 19.—The United States army has a private in the ranks who is a nephew of Marshal Joffre, the hero of the Marne and "saviour of France."

He is Andrew Reid IV., member of an old Baltimore family, and son of a sister of the famous French marshal. He was accepted a week ago as a private in the aviation section of the United States army.

Private Reid told his classmates why he entered the service of Uncle Sam.

"I feel like a lot of other Americans," he said. "I feel that I wouldn't care to face the future unless I had done my duty in this present crisis. I'd never dare face my uncle, Marshal Joffre, unless I were in uniform."

Private Reid, 26, is a graduate of St. John's Military school at Annapolis, Md. His mother recently gave $28,000 to found an ambulance unit in France.

WHO KILLED MRS. KING? COUNTY IN NORTH CAROLINA HOME OF BEAUTY'S SECRETARY, TORN BY QUESTION

Staff Writer Goes Over Scene Guided by Farmer Whose Story Brought Re-opening of Case.

BY J. HERBERT DUCKWORTH.

Concord, N. C., Sept. 17.—No more eerie spot for the staging of a tragedy could be imagined than Blackwelder Spring, the scene of the mysterious shooting of Mrs. Maude A. King, handsome and wealthy Chicago widow, who kept an expensive apartment on fashionable Park avenue, New York.

After going to the place earlier in the day, I revisited the spring at night. It was then that I realized how an Edgar Allan Poe would revel in making this dark glen the scene of a great tragedy.

By day it is a delightful cool retreat, a rendezvous for young lovers. At night, shrouded by the surrounding woods from even the light of the stars, it is a pitch black hole in the side of a hill that one would shrink from exploring alone.

My companion was Farmer Charles E. Dry, who from his porch upon a hill 250 yards away heard two shots on the night of August 28. It was Dry who startled Concord after the body had been taken to Chicago with a story that disagrees materially from that of Gaston Means, Mrs. King's secretary.

By the light of Dry's lantern I stumbled over the roots of giant cedars, stood by the forked tree beneath which Mrs. King fell with a bullet wound at the back of her left ear, and sat down by the spring, 30 feet away, where Gaston Means says he was drinking when the rich widow accidentally shot herself while twirling a small automatic pistol around her head.

Coroner Sears says he believes an injured ankle caused Mrs. King to lose her footing in the dark and when she threw up her arms to regain her balance the pistol was discharged.

The sequestered dell, vaulted by the stout branches of massive trees, off an old lane that turns in from the main Goans Hill road, was visited by the Means-King party on the night of the tragedy for the purpose of target practice, according to Means. In the party, besides Mrs. King and Gaston Means, were the latter's brother, Atton or "Tony" Means, and Capt. W. S. Bingham, a Concord man.

The party rode over in an automobile driven by a colored chauffeur from Concord, the home of the Meanses, where the father is a lawyer and "Tony" the republican boss of the county.

Gaston Means says that for two years he was employed over here by the German government, and that he has been shadowed for a long time.

The whole county is split into two factions over the tragedy, one side in favor of a thorough reinvestigation of the occurrence, and the other side to abide by the result of the coroner's inquest, which returned a verdict of accidental death.

Gaston Means makes the charge that "Chicago interests" are responsible for the theory that his late employer was murdered.

Mrs. MAUDE A. KING

P. S. McDuffie, an Atlanta lawyer, retained by Mrs. A. L. Robinson, of Asheville, N. C., Mrs. King's mother, says that of the million-dollar estate which Mrs. King obtained by breaking her lumberman husband's will in Chicago in 1905, only $490,000 remains. McDuffie is trying to discover what became of the other $510,000.

By the flickering glimmer of his lantern as we stood by the forked tree, Dry told me how from his porch he heard a shot and a voice call, several times, "Captain, come here quick!" He then caught the sound of men breaking through the bushes between his farm and the spring, and making in the direction of the latter. Next he saw the lights of an auto come tearing down the high road from Concord and turn into the abandoned lane. The car stopped near the spring. He heard a door slam, saw through the trees and underbrush the tall lights of the car backing up. The car then moved about fifteen feet forward, when he heard a second shot and saw a flash. The auto crawled out into the main road, and made off toward Concord at a terrific speed.

Whatever the outcome of this North

G. B. MEANS

Carolina tragedy may be, the feud already started between the Means and anti-Means factions is likely to outlive the legal decision.

EXEMPTION APPEAL RULE

Washington, Sept. 19.—The following telegram has been sent to governors by the provost-marshal-general:

"Claims for exemption or discharge on the ground of engagement in industry and agriculture are within the original jurisdiction of the district boards. Decision of the district boards is final except that the president may affirm, modify or reverse such decision in accordance with regulations prescribed by him. The regulations provide for appeal from the decision of the district board on agricultural and industrial claims, but the claim for appeal must be filed with the district board who will send all evidence and other matter considered in the case to the president for his consideration. If after the decision of the district board it is desired to submit new matter, the district board may reopen the case, consider such new matter and if it adheres to its original decision, forward such new matter to the president. Matter not presented to the district boards cannot be considered on appeal to the president.

"While district boards are not courts, their function in passing on claims, and the function of the president in examining their decisions, is quasi-judicial. Since the general rule must be that nothing which was not presented to the district board can be considered on appeal to the president it would be subversive of the spirit of the law and violative of the judicial function that is being executed to make exceptions in individual cases, and receive suggestions, urgings or statements from individuals concerning particular cases pending here on appeal."

"There is No Substitute for Butter Even in Cooking" --- Says Mrs. McKoin

I have tried various experiments and tests—but butter is not only more desirable but MORE ECONOMICAL in cooking as well as serving.

"In butterfat one gets indispensable qualities that are not to be found in other fats or foods. The use of butter in cooking energizes the low priced foods—and not only makes them more tasty but more nourishing."

Delft Brand Creamery Butter

Is made from selected cream—perfectly packed—and is a first quality butter. Delft Brand is the first choice of all Fort Wayne housewives. Mrs. McKoin selected it and is using Delft Brand in all of her cooking and serving. Observe Mrs. McKoin's experience and you, too, will use butter for all purposes. Use butter in cooking your vegetables and meats: have butter with your cereals; spread it thick on bread and butter cakes. You can't use too much butter, because the system utilizes at once or stores away for future use all the butter you can eat—which is not true of meat food.

BRAND BUTTER IS SOLD BY ALL LEADING GROCERS

EVERY SHIP FOR THE WAR

By Spring America Will Be Forced to Take Every Ounce of Tonnage.

SO DECLARES HEAD OF SHIPPING BOARD

Government Should Be Able to Take Over the Vast Neutral Shipping.

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 19.—Within the next six months the demand of the American army board will require that the government divert every available American merchant vessel, coastwise and others, to overseas service, R. B. Stevens, vice-chairman of the United States shipping board today told the war convention here of American business men.

The real pinch in the world shipping situation will come, Mr. Stevens said, early next spring before the government has begun to turn out vessels in large numbers. Mr. Stevens urged business men to go to congress in support of a bill now pending to empower President Wilson to suspend provisions of the shipping laws so that neutral vessels may be permitted to engage in American coastwise trade. The government, he said, has found it has to power to commandeer neutral ships tied up in American ports and put them under the American flag.

The neutrals, he said, are ready to put their tonnage to carrying cargoes between American ports, but this government gives permission. Hundreds of thousands of tons of shipping he said are available for this service.

Federal Control of Railroads. Harry A. Wheeler, of Chicago, who spoke on the relations between business and transportation, declared the federal control of railroads would be brought ten years closer by reason of the war. The next steps in regulation, he said, would be federal incorporation and federal regulation of the issuance of securities. The national government, he said, will gradually absorb the functions of state railroad commissions.

Diversion of vast amounts of money for war purposes will make it extremely difficult, Mr. Wheeler said, for the railroads to obtain capital for development. The government, he said, as it tightens its regulations, must render assistance to the roads in getting this capital. The war, Mr. Wheeler, added, will bring about a closer union between business and the railroads, each serving as a check upon the other, but each helping the other to develop to meet the war requirements.

No Shortage of Petroleum. "There is not the slightest danger of a deficiency in the supply either of crude oil or its products, kerosene and gasoline, for the use of the United States or its allies," in the opinion of A. C. Bedford, of New York, president of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey. Mr. Bedford expressed this conviction here today before the war convention of the American chamber of commerce. "America," said Mr. Bedford, "is producing and can produce all that will be needed for these purposes." But he added that "our government should receive the first call upon all petroleum produced, either for itself or as it may designate for the use of our allies in the conduct of the war."

Mr. Bedford declared the vital problem confronting the petroleum industry today was to increase the production of crude oil. "The price," he said, "should be sufficiently attractive to induce more and more people to drill wells, thus insuring a steady supply and offering always the opportunity of finding a great pool, which will make the whole situation suddenly easy."

While the oil refining capacity of the country, Mr. Bedford stated, is greater than the present demand, the United States is consuming crude oil at the rate of more than 350,000 barrels a year, while the annual production in this country amounts to 215,000,000 barrels. There was in storage in the United States on July 1 last, however, 164,500,042 barrels of petroleum. "It will thus appear," added Mr. Bedford, "that with the stocks above ground and given the present rate of production and consumption the supply is sufficient to insure our having sufficient oil for at least the next five years provided the production is fairly maintained; so while there is no occasion for alarm it is one for taking measures for adequate production of what we need."

American Business and the War. How American business men can help promote the development of transportation on land and sea as a primary factor in winning the war and the functions of commercial organizations in war were the chief topics for discussion at today's sessions of the war convention of the chambers of commerce of the United States.

Under these two general heads the discussion covered a wide field, the speakers including many of the nation's leaders in business and industry. In addition several group meetings were held during the day for the special consideration of fuel conservation, better use of freight cars and terminal facilities, utilization of motor trucks and trolleys, co-operation on the food problems, economies in the use of materials, power and delivery service, saving on storage space, organization of government present and anticipated and how manufacturers and trade organizations may organize better to serve the government and develop their output. The speakers included Judge Robert S. Lovett, of the war emergency board;

Raymond B. Stevens, United States shipping board; A. C. Bedford, president of the Standard Oil company; Harry A. Wheeler, Chicago; Walter Parker, of the department of commerce; Edward A. Filene, of Boston; Walter S. Gifford, director of the council of national defense, and James A. McKibben, president of the national association of commercial organization secretaries.

At the night session Lord Northcliffe, chairman of the British war mission, and Herbert C. Hoover were on the program for addresses. The increased usage of waterways and coastwise transportation as means of relieving the strain on the railways, was urged by Mr. Parker in his address at the morning session.

NO MORE DRINKING IN CAFES TO BE ALLOWED

New Orders Are Issued by Chief of Police Abolishing Cabarets.

Reports having reached Chief of Police Lenz that his orders were being violated at the Wayne hotel, he has issued orders that hereafter no more drinks are to be served in the cafe and that no dancing or cabaretting will be allowed in the refreshment parlor of the hotel.

The new rule of no dancing, no serving of drinks in the cafe and no acts by professional entertainers was first put into effect Tuesday night. There was marked dissatisfaction among many of the hotel guests, who had gathered for "a cup of cheer and a song." The guests who wished something colder than coffee were forced to go to the bar and purchase their liquor over the bar. Women did not take the journey to the bar. There were few women who nibbled on Tuesday night.

It was frankly admitted that there was a dullness about the occasion when only the orchestra offered its rhythmic harmony.

Telephone calls from the Wayne hotel management were received by Police Chief Lenz on Wednesday morning. The chief was asked to explain the meaning of certain parts of his order of the night before. Inquiries were made about the serving of drinks in the cafe if proper precautions were taken to keep the transaction legal.

"You must keep within the law on everything," said the chief. "You know what right and what is wrong. You will find yourself in a heap of trouble if you undertake to overstep the present orders."

Officers on the down town beats at night have been reprimanded by the chief for their failure to enforce his orders and report to him their alleged violation.

MEETING POSTPONED.

The meeting scheduled for Wednesday afternoon in the assembly room of the court house to discuss the proposition of employing a woman county agent has been postponed until Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

ATTENDING FAIR.

A. J. Hutchins, county agricultural agent, has gone to Kendallville to attend the fair.

Flag Shows Teddy's Four Sons in War

Four stars in the service flag hanging from a window of Sagamore Hill proclaim that Colonel Roosevelt's four sons—Quentin, Archie, Kermit and Teddy, Jr.—have gone to war for Uncle Sam. The former president is shown beneath the banner.

The South Side Reading club held its first meeting this week and twelve of the fifteen members participated and enjoyed a banquet at the Central cafe, West Wayne street, at 8 o'clock. Toasts responded to were by Mrs. George Feustel, president, on "Motherhood"; Mrs. Allen Courtney, on "The Personnel"; Mrs. Glenn K. Knauss, on "Our Motto"; and Mrs. Noah Zehr, on "Our Aim and What the Future Holds."

HOUSEWIVES CAUSING MILK BOTTLE FAMINE

Patriotic Use of All Forms of Containers Works Woe to Dairy Traffic.

Conservation may not be a saving if it brings higher milk prices. Housewives are making wholesale use of milk bottles in their efforts to preserve and jell. As a result, the Fort Wayne dairymen face a milk bottle famine. They have inquired of the city health department regarding a possible remedy.

Dairymen state that they have found that it is a short-sighted policy to sell the milk bottles through the grocers. The plan causes the loss of hundreds of bottles each week to the dairymen. In many cases the bottles are wasted. Some checking system for causing the customers to return the milk bottles to the grocers, will no doubt be devised.

Many housewives have found the purchasing of milk with the bottles a cheap method of obtaining valuable jelly jars dairymen say. The raising price of glass cans has stimulated this plan milk men say. The dairymen find the price of milk bottles growing higher with each passing day.

Dairymen are finding it harder to purchase new supplies of the bottles at any price, they report to health men. A scheme for conserving the bottles without alloying the impulse to save food will be undertaken by health officers within the next few days.

Waiting on Steel. The Grace Construction company has placed its order for steel reinforcements for the big concrete wall, to be built on the east side of Spy Run avenue, from State boulevard to the Centerville brewery. The contracting company has been notified that the shipment of steel cannot be expected for three weeks. As soon as the metal arrives here the work of building the wall will start.

Working Rapidly. Work of making the fill of crushed stone on Tennessee avenue, near the Tennessee avenue bridge, is being carried on at a rapid rate by city workmen. Four carloads of rock have been placed at the west end of the bridge.

Installing Basin. City workmen are installing a catch basin at the corner of Wayne and Lafayette streets.

New Crossing. The Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company is building a new crossing at the intersection of the industrial track and North Clinton street. The crossing has been a traffic menace since the street was constructed.

Starts on Lasalle Street. The Grace Construction company will move its steam shovel to Lasalle street on Friday morning for the opening of grading work.

To Pave Boulevard. The board of works will take action towards securing the paving of Pontiac boulevard, from Central drive to Alexander street, Thursday night. The board also expects to provide for the paving of Alexander street, from Drexel boulevard to Pontiac boulevard. This paving will form a loop of six blocks to take care of the Pontiac Place addition.

A football field will be built in Foster park to the west of the park ball diamond. Work on the new field will be started at once. Football enthusiasts of the west end are to meet at the park ball field at 5 o'clock Wednesday evening to talk over plans for the field. It had been planned to have the gridiron established in Swinney park, but there is not sufficient room for the field in that park.

Want Circulation. Residents of Mechanic street are petitioning the board of works to bring a line of city mains from the new Swinney park well past Mechanic street in order to form a circulation of water in the lines of that part of the city. The Mechanic street main stops in a dead end at the terminus of the street. This causes a stagnant condition of the water, it is pointed out.

Laying Out Park. Work of laying out the new Stirling park, at the joining of Wayne trace and New Haven avenue, was started under the direction of Park Superintendent Adolph Janerick Wednesday. The ground in the three-sided strip is being leveled off and trees will be planted in the plat. The wading pool will not be built in the new park until next spring.

Ready to Raise Cabin. Preparations for the erection of a Lincoln homestead cabin in Foster park will start on Monday. Trees have been cut for the cabin, which is to be an exact duplicate of the Kentucky home of Abraham Lincoln. The log hut will be reared as rapidly as possible after the timbers are delivered to the park.

AWARD CONTRACT.

The Wayne Oil and Supply company was given the contract for installing the Swinney park well at the price of $1,543. The board of works members are now waiting for the company to furnish bond in that sum.

BIRTH RECORD.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Elder, 735 High street—a girl. To Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dunham, 2114 California avenue—a boy. To Mr. and Mrs. Walter Koche, 2625 Lilly street—a girl. To Mr. and Mrs. Walter Behan, 3414 South Webster street—a girl. To Mr. and Mrs. William King, 1333 Eliza street—a boy.

CASE OF DIPHTHERIA.

The health department is notified that George Bloom, aged 7, 2221 Bowser avenue, has diphtheria.

Major Thomas F. Ryan, of the Fort Wayne recruiting station of the United States army, has received a copy of the following order from the adjutant general, directing the enlistment of colored men into the service, for special duties:

"You are authorized to accept until further orders suitable colored men for enlistment in stevedore regiments, quartermaster's corps. "Select Men" Matinee.

The Palace theater has issued an invitation to every man who has been selected into the national army to attend the Thursday matinee free of charge. Each man must show the little pink card sent out by each of the draft boards and this will gain admittance for himself and entire party—wives, mothers, sisters, sweethearts, or fathers. The men will report to their respective draft boards first and then may attend the show. As there are only 2,000 seats in the house it is a case of first come first served.

Farewell Party.

A farewell party was tendered Charles H. Trautman at the home of his brother on Hurd street, Tuesday evening. Mr. Trautman leaves for Camp Taylor, Kentucky, Friday morning.

First Lieutenant In Medical Corps

DR. JAMES ASHTON LOMAS.

Just Commissioned First Lieutenant in Army Medical Corps.

Dr. James Ashton Lomas, of this city, has just received his commission as a first lieutenant in the medical corps of the United States army and is now awaiting orders to report for duty. Dr. Lomas offered his services early in the war and some weeks ago was accepted after passing highly satisfactory examinations. He has no idea to what cantonment he will be ordered to report, but it is probable he will be sent first to Fort Benjamin Harrison or to Camp Taylor, the big cantonment near Louisville.

Dr. Lomas is one of Fort Wayne's native sons. He is a graduate of the public schools and of the Fort Wayne Medical college. He has been in practice for about twenty years in this city, Chicago and other places. For three years he has owned a ranch in Montana where a part of his time has been spent.

evening. Mr. Trautman leaves for Camp Taylor, Kentucky, Friday morning. Ice cream and cake were served. JAPANESE ENVOYS ARE FILLED WITH TRUST

See Dawn of New Day for Relations With the United States.

Boston, Sept. 19.—The Japanese mission will return home with the "absolute assurance that the true heart of America has not been reached by the blight which has menaced us both," Viscount Ishii declared at a luncheon tendered the party at the Boston City club today.

"The venomous gossip," he said, "that has for a decade endeavored to keep our nations apart, the difference between us in the past; the misunderstandings and misinformation which so easily finds credence have perhaps been removed, and suspicion to influence, to some extent, the people of your country and ours, but now, returning to our home land, we can carry the message of absolute assurance that the true heart of America has not been reached by the blight which has menaced us both, and that from now through all time Japan and America in friendly counsel together will follow steadfastly the path which leads to the fair fields of sweet content, each protected by the other and each protecting the other from the enemy."

"We are together in this great war to win freedom and to secure liberty, to give and to take, according to our needs. We are comrades and we are partners."

MARRIED THREE MONTHS.

Auburn, Ind., Sept. 19.—Robert Elden, a prominent young man of Butler, has filed suit in the DeKalb circuit court for a divorce from his wife, La Nora Duntan Elden. The plaintiff states that his wife told him repeatedly that she did not care for him but cared more for another young man with whom she had formerly associated. Mrs. Duntan left Butler several months ago, and is employed as a milliner in a Michigan town. She is the daughter of E. B. Duntan, a former attorney of Butler, who is now located at Pascagoula, Miss.

Big Four Railroad's Surplus at Beach Grove Bursts Into Flame.

Beech Grove, Ind., Sept. 19.—Giant steam shovels at the Big Four shops here are working today moving coal in an attempt to stop a blaze at the base of one of the three reserve coal piles of the Big Four railroad in Beech Grove. The pile started smoking last night and early today flames burst from the pile at various points. The pile on fire contains thousands of tons of coal. Adjoining piles of coal will be endangered if not put under control. The superintendent of the shops near which the coal was placed expressed the opinion that the efforts to check the fire would be successful soon.

ALL OF CINCINNATI RED'S STARS HERE FOR GAME WITH FORT WAYNE

Christy Mathewson Will
Use Best Players at League Park.

The far famed Christy Mathewson and his equally famous aggregation of Cincinnati Reds arrived in Fort Wayne early this morning, and were ready for the game scheduled at League park this afternoon. There was no sham Red team which arrived here. The lineup comprises the names of players who have made the great national game.

This year the Reds have had more 200 hits than any other club in the American circuit, and if some other departments had been going as strong as the hitting department the Reds would have walked away with the National league pennant. The Reds' train came in over the G. R. & I. at an early hour and most of the players remained on the sleeper until late this morning. Seven of the players, however, went directly to the Anthony hotel. These were Mathewson, manager of the club; Heinie Groh, 300 hitter; Eddie Rousch, former Federal league star, and leading National league batsman; McEchternie, Itegan, pitcher; McGee, Ruetcher, and Rittcher.

Mathewson's act in bringing his best players and the entire roster of his stars is characteristic of the spirit which has probably made him baseball's most popular hero. Another team here a short time ago purporting to be the class of organized baseball and contenders for the world championship, through no fault of the local managers, who were forced to put up a large guarantee, sent in a second string bunch who failed to live up to the expectations of the local baseball fans.

FIGHT AND TRIPLE PLAY AT SMOKETOWN

Pirates Lose Two But Give Braves Stiff Argument.

Pittsburg, Sept. 19.—Several thrills accompanied the double-header yesterday between Pittsburg and Boston in which the visitors took both games, 5 to 3 and 1 to 0. The first triple play ever seen at Forbes field was engineered in the second inning. With the bases full and none out, Alvin Karpis, who threw to Schmidt, hit the batter, relaying the ball to Kelly in time to eliminate Myers, and when Kelly kept coming for the plate from second Molvitz's throw to Schmidt put him out. Later King and Chief Meyers had a fist fight. They were put out of the game, as well as Pitcher Jacobs, who pushed Myers around. Score: Pittsburg..... 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 0—1 Boston..... 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0 Second game: Pittsburg..... 1 2 0 1 0 0 0 0—5 Boston..... 0 0 0 0 3 0 0 0—3 Batteries—Rudolph and Tagressor; Cooper and Smith.

Tony Blanks Phils, 1-0. Cincinnati, Sept. 19.—The Phils wound up their 1917 season at Redland field when Fred Toney bested E. J. Rixey in a pitchers' duel 1 to 0. Singles by Magee and Chase and a double steal gave the Reds the contest in the seventh. Score: Philadelphia..... 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0 Cincinnati..... 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 0—1 Batteries—Rixey and Killifer; Toney and Smith.

Doak in Stellar Role. St. Louis, Sept. 19.—Doak pitched St. Louis to victory in both games of yesterday's double-header with Brooklyn, winning the first game 2 to 0 and the second 12 to 4. Doak has now won fifteen games for which he receives a bonus of $800. Score: Brooklyn..... 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0 St. Louis..... 0 0 2 0 0 0 0 0—2 Second game: Brooklyn..... 11 0 0 0 0 1 1—4 St. Louis..... 1 0 1 2 0 0 1 1—1 Batteries—First game, Pfeiffer and Krueger; Doak and Snyder. Second game, Cheney, Wachtel and Wheat; Doak and Gonzales.

Giants Gain Game. Chicago, Sept. 19.—New York gained a full game in the pennant race yesterday by shutting out Chicago 4 to 0 for the second time while Cincinnati won from Philadelphia. Score: New York..... 1 0 0 0 0 1 0 0—4 Chicago..... 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0 Batteries—Benton and McCarthy; Carter, Hendrix and Dillhoefer.

"CHICK" HARLEY REPORTS READY FOR PRACTICE.

Columbus, O., Sept. 19.—Despite recent announcement to the contrary, Charles (Chick) Harley, the halfback on last year's western conference championship football team of Ohio State university, reported at Ohio state yesterday with the announced intention of registering as student. Harley told friends he had applied for admission into the aviation service but that he would remain at the university until called.

THE FIGHT FOR PENNANTS.

Both the White Sox and Giants increased their leads yesterday. The Giants won while the Phillies lost and New York now leads by 12½ games. To clinch the flag the Giants need but three more victories out of 14 games even if the Phillies win all their 15 games. The standing then would be:

Team	Won	Lost	Pct.
Giants	94	69	.574
Phillies	92	69	.569

The Red Sox were prevented from playing on account of rain and the White Sox trimmed the Athletics, increasing their lead to eight games. Chicago needs but six victories out of 11 games to clinch the pennant even though the Red Sox win their remaining 16 contests. The standing then would be:

Team	Won	Lost	Pct.
White Sox	101	53	.656
Red Sox	100	53	.654

ASSOCIATION SEASON

WILL CLOSE TODAY

Indianapolis Club Establishes Unique Record and Wins Pennant.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—With the Indianapolis club winner of the pennant this season, the American association will close today with St. Paul and Louisville fighting it out for second place honors. These two clubs, which for the last few days threatened to upset Indianapolis, are tied, each having won 58 and lost 65. St. Paul will play at Columbus today, Kansas City at Louisville, Milwaukee at Indianapolis and Minneapolis at Toledo. Indianapolis is safely out in front with a two and a half game lead over Louisville and St. Paul. Columbus is in possession of fourth place and Milwaukee fifth.

The Indianapolis team, which got away in the lead at the start of the race, and retained it until dethroned for a day by St. Paul last week, made an unusual record in not having a player lined nor put out of a game by an umpire during the season.

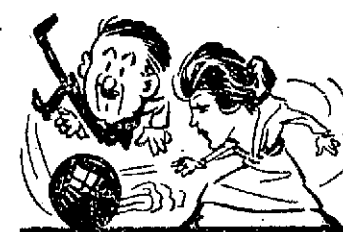

"This fact, in my judgment," said Thomas J. Hickey, president of the association, "is the thing that helped the club most although it has played consistent ball all day been fortunate in not having many players injured."

The official standing, including games of yesterday, follows:

Club	Won	Lost
Indianapolis	59	62
St. Paul	58	65
Louisville	58	65
Columbus	53	69
Milwaukee	50	71
Minneapolis	47	68
Kansas City	45	68
Toledo	56	64

SPORT CHATTER

Women bowlers chasing the men in Russia has a precedent in Ohio, where and women bowlers have the men on the run. How the mighty are fallen. Charley McCourt, who used to be world champion three-cushionist, was beaten by an amateur the other night.

"Ty Cobb went hitless in both games of a double-header the other day, which means that Jennings probably will ask waivers on him.

LIFE'S LITTLE TRAGEDIES—A Boston man agreed not to eat beans for a year if the Red Sox did not win a pennant.

All of which reminds us that Harry Frazer probably will agree that it is impossible to buy a pennant winner. The autumn days are here again. The gladdest of the year.

IN THE FOOTBALL CAMPS.

Wisconsin.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 19.—Fifteen Badger football candidates were given a thorough workout by Coach John Richards in the first real practice of the season. The new mentor put his men through a double drill, the morning being given over to passing, running and kicking, and the afternoon to sign formations and dummy tackling.

Capt. Hancock appeared in uniform for the first time along with Thompson, Hips and Davy, of last year's squad. Wisconsin's prospects received their first setback when it was learned that Ray Edler, halfback on last year's team, who had been counted on to fill one of the backfield positions, had enlisted in the aviation service and is now on his way to an eastern training camp.

Notre Dame.

Notre Dame, Ind., Sept. 19.—Two practices and the arrival of Walter Miller, substitute backfield man last year, and Sherwood Dixon, Edw. Andrea, Norman Barry and M. Ryan toned up the football situation at Notre Dame. Tom King and Robert McGuire are expected Wednesday, though King has been drafted and may have to leave. Double workouts will be put on again Wednesday, but on Thursday collegiate classes are resumed and only one practice a day can be held.

Indiana.

Bloomington, Ind., Sept. 19.—An inventory of the Indiana university football squad showed sixteen candidates present, which is the smallest number in the history of the school and not more than a fourth as large as the number reported at the same period last year. Coaches Stehm and Evans are not worrying as they make up in quality what is lacking in quantity. The squad now consists of the following veterans:

Capt. Hathaway, Bowser, Howard, Ingles, Julius Keever, Cravenstaufer, Pierce, Risley, Sherwood, Dalzell, Baltzell, Von Treiss and Hegung.

Indiana university in a statement last night says the attendance has fallen off 20 per cent compared with last year, on account of the war.

Illinois.

Urbana, Ill., Sept. 19.—Signal practice was the order of Coach Zuppa on Illinois field. About seventy-five men gathered about for two hours. President James addressed the squads and, among other things, brought out the fact that football had furnished more officers for the United States army than any other branch of athletics. Zuppa has much faith in the new men. Among the finds at ends position are Rafferty, Mongrie and Wilson.

CHRISTY MATHEWSON.

When Christy Mathewson appeared on the field at League park this afternoon he was the one player of whom Fort Wayne fans had probably read more about than any other in the big league but even excepting Ty Cobb. After being the premier pitcher in the National league for many years, Mathewson stepped into the managerial class, and has a club which Cincinnati fans thought would win the pennant this year. The Giants seem to have it clinched now but the fans are looking to Matly to do wonders next year.

BOXING MATCHES TONIGHT WILL CONCLUDE DAY OF REAL SPORT

Fast Bouts Are Expected to Attract Capacity Crowd.

A day for lovers of real sport together with major league baseball and a big boxing card, was scheduled today for Fort Wayne. Lovers of the fist game will have ample opportunity to indulge themselves this evening at the Majestic when the going starts for the start of the first of three ten-round bouts.

Three local boys will figure in the bouts tonight and fight fans will naturally back the home talent. The local pugilists began their training yesterday with light workouts and took things comparatively easy today, doing little except to rest their muscles for the big efforts tonight. Fight fans from different parts of the state began arriving here yesterday and will be here in both the baseball game between Cincinnati and Fort Wayne and the bouts tonight.

Sammy Hess, of this city, and Paddy Kelly, of St. Louis, will stage the preliminary. They will weigh in at 125 pounds for a ten-round go. Len Ellenwood, of Fort Wayne, and Young Stanley, of Chicago, will provide the entertainment for the semi-windup. They will fight at 125 pounds. Frankie Mason, of Fort Wayne, and Jimmy Curtis, of St. Louis, both light fellows, will furnish the main go. Both are topnotchers in their class. Mason, the local boy, has defeated the best in the business and it is freely predicted that Curtis will have to uncover more than is expected if he stays the limit. Mason has a wallop in either mitt and is lightning fast. The first bout tonight will start at 8:15.

"LET HIM SPEND HIS MONEY," ANSWERS WIFE

Mrs. Ellison Refuses to Be Alarmed at Husband's Mistake.

Dean Ellison, road contractor, of Monroeville, is claimed to have been responsible for the entire $10 bond which was forfeited in police court Wednesday morning, in the case in which Ellison was charged with associating with Bessie Bice, who also gave the name of Grace Davidson, 1526 Harrison street.

Friends of Mrs. Dean Ellison telephoned the woman at Monroeville of her husband's misconduct and costly apprehension.

"Let him spend his money if he has it to spend," Mrs. Ellison is claimed to have replied.

Ellison and the Bice woman were arrested by a patrolman Hall and Hill, who were assisted by men of the Harrison street neighborhood, Tuesday night. The house has been under surveillance for some time. The woman aroused the indignation of the neighbors when she introduced Ellison as her husband, several days ago.

Neither Ellison or Bessie Bice appeared in police court. Bonds in the sum of $5 for each had been put up for the pair. Judge H. W. Kerr declared the bond forfeited.

Charge Changed.

The charge against William Smith, colored, who pleaded guilty to taking $33 from George Nod, also colored, Tuesday morning, was changed from grand larceny to petit larceny, Tuesday night. Smith pleaded guilty to the petit larceny complaint Wednesday morning. He was fined $10 and sentenced to 150 days at the state farm.

Took Fixtures.

Carl Cureton, a negro, is charged with petit larceny. He will be tried on Friday morning. It is alleged that he took several articles from the bar room, in connection with the Daites hotel, where Cureton was employed.

Other Police Court Cases.

Clarence Lockhart, Evansville youth, was bound to the federal authorities because he admits that he is 24 years old and does not have a draft card on his person. Lockhart was arrested a week ago. He told at that time that he was registered and that his card was at home. He says he thought officials were making inquiries about his conscription status while he was in jail.

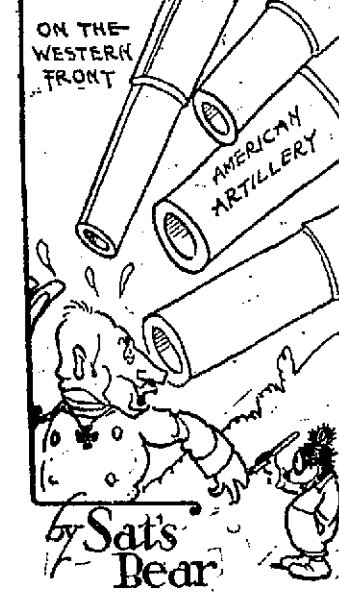

Mason Signment and Mose Cummings, companions of Lockhart, were released.

Cases of public intoxication were Henry Feldler, $5 fine; Albert Watson, $5, and John Regan, $1. William Brown and Charles Brown were released.

Lovely White Skin!

Strain lemon juice well before mixing and massage face, neck, arms, hands.

By all means, girls, prepare a lemon lotion to keep your skin flexible and young looking. You will soon realize that true loveliness does not mean the powdery-hot or waxen colorlessness of some hot-house flower, but is typified by the velvety softness of your skin, your peach-like complexion and rosy-white hands.

At the cost of a small jar of ordinary cold cream one can prepare a full quart of the most wonderful lemon skin softener and complexion beautifier, by squeezing the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white. Care should be taken to strain the juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan, and is the ideal skin softener, smoother and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any pharmacy and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quart of this sweetly fragrant lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It should naturally help to whiten, soften, freshen and bring out the roses and hidden beauty of any skin. It is simply marvelous to smoothen rough, red hands.—Advertisement.

No Humbug! Lift off Corns

Doesn't hurt a bit to lift a corn or callus off with fingers.

For every corn you can get a small bottle of the magic drug freezone, recently discovered by a Cincinnati man.

Just ask at any drug store for a small bottle of freezone. Apply a few drops upon a tender, aching corn and instantly, yes, immediately, all soreness disappears and shortly you will find the corn or callus so loose that you lift it out, root and all, with the fingers.

Just think! Not one bit of pain before applying freezone or afterwards. It doesn't even irritate the surrounding skin.

Hard corns, soft corns or corns between the toes, all so hardened, calluses on bottom of feet, just seem to shrivel up and fall off without hurting a particle. It is almost magical.

Ladies! Keep a tiny bottle on your dresser and never let a corn or callus ache twice.—Advertisement.

WOMEN ASKED TO MAKE MORE PILLOW COMFORTS

The local branch of the Red Cross has received notice from Cleveland advising great care in the construction of articles for the soldiers. It was suggested that wristlets be made with thumb holes at either end whenever possible, and that hems and seams should be placed on the outside. The trend is to make everything as comfortable as possible.

Cleveland also notified the local branch to stop making fracture pillows, muslin bandages, 2x2 gauze sponges, knitted sponges and all laparotomy pads and gauze drains. It was added that all scarfs should be made seventy-two inches long, but to make sweaters two inches longer.

Mrs. Georgiana Bond, who is in charge of the workshop, has received notice that Fort Wayne is now changed into the lake division. She also is notified that pillow comforts are 20,000 short and asks that the women of Fort Wayne do their share.

CHILD TUMBLES FROM WINDOW TO SIDEWALK

Four-Year-Old Son of John Foohey Fractures His Skull.

Conley Foohey, four year old son of John Foohey, contractor, 210 West Creighton avenue, fractured his skull when he fell from the second story window of his home to the concrete sidewalk below, Tuesday afternoon. Condition of the child is critical.

Conley was not sleepy when his mother put him to bed for his afternoon nap, Tuesday. After Mrs. Foohey had come down stairs the child climbed out of bed and sought to rest himself by a more active pastime than sleeping. He climbed up into the front window to see the autos speed past and the progress of lumbering wagons. The boy leaned too heavily against the wire screening of the window and forced the screen out. The screen and the child fell together. The fall was nearly twenty feet from the window easement to the concrete sidewalk. Mrs. Foohey heard the cries of the injured boy and running to the walk gathered him in her arms and carried him into the house. The mother summoned a physician. The child is being cared for in the Foohey home.

Home Complexion Peeler Works Wonders

To keep the face, neck, arms and hands truly beautiful and youthful in appearance, the treatment which seems most sensible is one which will actually remove the skin itself immediately it begins to age, fade, sourcen or discolor. The only known treatment which will do this, aside from a painful, expensive surgical operation, is the application of ordinary mercolized wax, which is as harmless as it is effective.

The wax is put on at night, just as you apply cold cream, and washed off in the morning. It absorbs the dead and half-dead surface skin in almost invisible flaky particles a little each day, no discomfort being experienced. With the disappearance of the old cuticle the newer, healthier skin underneath gradually appears, richly beautiful with the flush of youth. This mercolized wax, which you can get at any drug store in original package, is indeed a veritable wonder-worker.—Advertisement.

YOUNG MEN WHO HAVE COME TO THE FRONT IN BATTING RACE THIS YEAR

on the farm. So, in 1909, he bade a food farewell to the crops and cows and got a job pitching for Evansville, then in the Kitty League. He pitched only a little, but played the field a whole lot. He looked so good that he was re-engaged for 1913. Then he began to slug. He batted something like .330 in that league during 1913. His work was so good that he was called to the Chicago White Sox. Roush played several games for Chicago, but he was not yet ripe. Jimmie Callahan, League during the two seasons of that organization's endurance.

Roush hammered the federal pitchers hard in 1914. He got himself a batting average of .330. His team won the Federal League pennant in 1914. In 1915 the club was transferred to Newark. Roush went with it. He batted something like .295 that season. Then the Federal League broke up. There was a great rush for Kauff, Lee Magee and other stars. The New York Giants gave $35,000 for Kauff. Paid the cash. The New York Americans gave $28,000 for Magee. Roush, Rariden and Pitcher Anderson went in on the Kauff trade for almost nothing. McGraw wanted Kauff. He did not want Roush, Rariden or Anderson, but he let them be shoved in on the trade for the reason that Harry Sinclair, who sold the Federal players, thought that it would look bad to ask $35,000 for one player—Kauff.

Roush sat on the bench in New York during 1916. Davy Robertson came with a head of steam and a great flash in that year. Kauff was the press-agented star, but not a great success. George Burns, a beautiful ballplayer, had a clench on the other position. Just now the three best ballplayers in the game would probably be Cobb, Roush and Burns. So it will be seen that there were good reasons why Roush did not get much of a chance with the Giants in 1916. Burns was great. Robertson was playing

Then began the making of another great baseball reputation. Roush began hitting and fielding in first-class fashion from the first day of the season. His almost innumerable hits and his brilliant catches have been features of all the games which Cincinnati has played. Not only is Roush hitting the ball hard and safely he has developed into one of the best men to hit with a runner the game has ever seen. With Hal Chase, another great hit-and-run man, helping him, Roush has

BENNY KAUFF

BY J. E. SHERIDAN.

HERE'S a corking batting race in the National League this year. Three newcomers are running neck and neck for the honor of leading what used to be Hans Wagner's private league. Wagner was sent to lead the league hitters year after year.

Now it is a young man named Roush, of whom no one heard much until this season. Cruise, too, is a first-year man, Hornsby is a good second season player. Cruise, the oldest of the trio, is only 27 years old. Roush is 26 and Hornsby is 23. They are all real hitters. No scratch about their averages. They are hitting the ball hard, far and frequently. They are "there."

Roush has been leading the league steadily, with Cruise and Hornsby right on his heels. The Cincinnati lad is a beautiful ballplayer. He can do everything, hit, bunt, field, throw and run bases. He is famously fast. It is very doubtful that a faster man has ever circled a diamond. I should say that George Sisler of St. Louis and some others are faster to first than Roush is. When it comes to circling the bags I do not think that any man I have ever seen is so fast a man as Roush.

Not only does Roush play beautiful ball, he is an ideal ballplayer in appearance. About 25 years old, medium height, weight around 160 pounds, graceful, gay and debonair. Roush looks the part of a great ballplayer. He plays up to his looks.

Cobb is the only man in either league who is hitting better than Roush this season. The incomparable Ty is out-slugging them all. Yet he is not hitting them any nearer or any prettier than Roush. The Hoosier Kid is meeting the ball perfectly, driving it to every field, getting long hits as well as singles, beating out infield hits. In all, playing the game for all it is worth. He is fielding, too. Some of his catches have been miraculous. He has covered ground on rollers, and his throwing has been splendid.

Passed Up by Tinker. Verily, Roush is a great ballplayer and one wonders how he managed to keep his light under a bushel for so many years, and from so many keen-eyed managers. For be it known, Jimmie Callahan, John McGraw, Joe Tinker and Fielder Jones all passed up Roush at one time or another. Tinker and McGraw let him go after they had seen him hit .500 in the Federal League. Callahan sent him back to the minors in 1912, but that was before he got ripe. McGraw gave $35,000 for Kauff, and Roush was thrown in for good measure. Yet Roush is playing better ball than Kauff today, though the burly Benjamin is quite a good ballplayer himself. But not so good a ballplayer as Roush. In fact, there is just now but one man that I would put ahead of the Cincinnati outfielder. That man is Cobb. George Burns of New York is a wonderful ballplayer, but Burns is not hitting within .50 points of Roush just now.

Roush was born near Oakland, Ind., in 1891. He went the usual rural route of the country boy, farm work, ball playing, swimming, the stuff that puts reserve power in the man. Today Roush loves the farm, and, if he could afford to, would stay there all the time instead of playing ball. Nothing would better suit this great baseball player, this man who lives in great hotels, amid great crowds, and who is every day the cynosure of thousands of eyes, than to retire from the stadium to the solitude of the farm. Roush is a born farmer. He loves crops, farm animals and work.

But Edward could make more money on the city lots than he could

then manager of the White Sox, sent the youth to Lincoln, Neb., for further seasoning.

Went to Federal League. Roush did not fancy life in Lincoln a bit. It was rather too far from the old farm down in Indiana. Then the salary was not very large. So, when the Federal League started a club in Indianapolis, in 1914, Roush begged, yes, literally begged, a job. He got it. His mates on that team were Benny Kauff and Vincent Campbell, two great hitters and outfielders. Kauff played left, Campbell center and Roush right. It was the best outfield in the Federal at a terrific clip, and Kauff, a good ballplayer, was highly press-agented and had cost a huge price. Kauff was not going good, but he showed promise and had a great vogue. He was a drawing card and McGraw had to make good with him for that $35,000. So Roush, the best ballplayer of the three, Kauff, Robertson and Burns, sat on the bench and wished he was back on the farm in Indiana.

assisted in the scoring of more runs than any other batter in the National League.

Roush is a picture on the diamond. He stands in close to the plate, front foot and shoulder in, his hard to all fields, can bunt and beat them out, hit with the runner, scoot around the bases like a timber wolf, slide like a flash and field like three men. He is a great ballplayer and he came from the farm down on the banks of the Wabash.

all farmers, is avaricious for land, wants all of it he can possibly get, he might make good his threat to quit baseball. So long as he can make from $6,000 to $10,000 for playing baseball seven months in the year, it is not likely that he will retire. He can buy a lot of land for the money he will make in baseball.

Walton Cruise is the surprise of the season. Cruise was up to the National League in 1915 and 1916 but he did not make it stick either time. He was green when he came up in 1915, and could not get one foot past the other on bases. And he was a very poor fielder. So Miller Huggins, manager of the St. Louis Nationals, sent him back to St. Paul to learn something about baseball. Huggins had Cruise up for further trial in 1916, but Walton broke a collarbone early in the season and did not show Huggins anything. So it was back to St. Paul for the tall Tarheel. Cruise batted well in St. Paul until the end of the season, when he again wrenched that bad ankle and fell off in his hitting. So after batting .350 for the four months of the season in the American Association, Cruise slumped down to .284 or thereabouts.

Was Born on Farm.

Huggins had Cruise back for a third trial in 1917. This time the "second Joe Jackson," as he has been called, stuck. He began hitting the ball while at Hot Wells, Tex., on the spring training trip and he kept on hitting it in the National League. Cruise is a natural hitter. He looks like Joe Jackson, stands like him and hits with the same healthy, hearty swing. Cruise is a natural hitter, nothing more, nothing less. He takes a nice long swipe at the ball and hits it hard, though not quite so hard as "shoeless Joe."

Cruise is no spring chicken. He was late coming up, or maybe he, unlike most ballplayers, tells his real, not what Hub Perdue called his "official," age. So the Tarheel Terror admits that he was born on the farm near Sylacauga, Ala., in 1889. Cruise always was, and says he always will be, a farmer. He is strong for the soil and all his earnings have been invested in lands near that dear old Sylacauga.

Cruise played the usual amount of amateur and so-called "semi-professional" ball before he undertook to enter the professional fields. His first shot for money was in 1910 at Hattiesburg, Miss., then in the well-known Cotton States League. He batted something like .350 right from the start. New York and Detroit stuck in drafts for him and the Detroiters got him. They did not keep him long enough to know him and he returned to Chattanooga in the Southern Association, which is a Class AA league, the plow. In so much as Roush, like the "major league" of the South.

INDIANA MEN MOVING.

Indianapolis, Sept. 18.—The movement of the 6,250 men who will make up the increment of 40 per cent of the quota for Indiana for the first national army camp at Camp Taylor at Louisville began today. The movement of men will continue until Sunday.

Close to 2,500 men will pass through the union station at Indianapolis on their way to the camp. They will be under the supervision of six men detailed by Adjutant General Harry L. Smith, who have been designated to look after the conscripted men. The number of men from Indianapolis to leave this week is 980.

Preparations for a more widespread series of farewell entertainments for the men leaving the state have been planned than there were when the first men left two weeks ago. The present call for men will mean a movement of eight times the number already in the national army cantonments.

necessary in order to provide increased facilities for the manufacture, issue and storage of ordnance material; for equipment of an additional half-million men, in anticipation of a call for that number; for procuring additional rifles, an additional supply of small arms ammunition for machine guns, rifle and pistol target practice of an army of 2,300,000; for construction work with which the engineer corps is charged in France and for equipment of special troops operating in the theatre of war in Europe.

BRITISH HAVE GREAT LOSSES

Stuttgart, Tuebingen, Freudenberg, Obendorf, St. Ingbert, Saarbrücken and Colmar were attacked.

A French official statement Monday night said numerous raids were carried out on Sunday by French machines which dropped 15,000 kilos of projectiles on the barracks and factories at Stuttgart, an aviation camp at Colmar, depots at Elbach, military establishments south of Metz, the railway station at Thionville, factories at Tuebingen and the Saarbrücken station.

GEN. SOUKHOMLINOFF'S TRIAL

Petrograd, Sept. 18.—Witnesses in the trial of General Soukhomlinoff, the former Russian minister of war, who is facing a charge of high treason, having concluded their evidence, the general today was invited to give any explanation he might wish to make. The former minister appeared exhausted by the long judicial proceedings. Speaking in a weak, dried voice, he endeavored to prove the necessity for dismantling Russian fortresses for which he had given orders. He declared that owing to the conditions of modern warfare the fortresses long had lost all their strategic importance and would only have been traps for the retreating troops.

AMERICANS IN CASUALTY LIST

Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 18.—The names of the following Americans appear in today's casualty list. Previously reported prisoner of war now repatriated: Thomas Maxwell, Philadelphia. Wounded: A. P. Rodgers, St. Paul, Minn.; W. H. Higgins, Los Angeles.

THINGS BETTER IN RUSSIA.

Petrograd, Sept. 18.—The provisional government has abolished the post of governor of Petrograd and re-established the office of commander of the troops of the Petrograd district. Col. Polonikov has been appointed commander with powers to settle questions relating to the food supply and transport.

It is expected that the Cossack incident shortly will be closed in a satisfactory manner, says the Russian official news agency. Cossack officers have submitted to the provisional government a petition requesting that the order for the arrest of Gen. Kaledines, the Cossack leader, be countermanded, alleging the affair is entirely the work of political agents. A delegation of loyalists from Moscow has now gone to the Cossack headquarters to investigate on the spot.

NOT DONE WITH SWEDEN.

Stockholm, Sept. 18.—It is generally believed that the troubles of the Swedish government in connection with the German telegram forwarded from Buenos Aires through the Swedish legation are by no means over.

The question is whether the U. S. will rest satisfied with the tone of the Swedish communication issued last Saturday. It would surprise no one here if Secretary Lansing, of the Washington state department, were to call for a clear and unequivocal statement to the effect that the forwarding of American communications in language open to the Swedish authorities and with the knowledge and consent of the government's concern was in no wise comparable to the services rendered to Germany by Sweden. The wording of the two Swedish communications, it is pointed out in political circles, unfortunately left the way open to German and Germany's friends here and in other non-belligerent countries to bring charges upon the old usage about inhabitants of glass houses and the respective blackness of pots and kettles.

NEWSPAPERS FOR ARMIES

that so large an undertaking could be carried out," said Mr. Bryan today, "and it probably would not have been but for the assistance of Mr. Adler, of the Chattanooga Times, who suggested that if the paper carried no advertising and were not sold there were no reasons why local publishers would not co-operate to the fullest measure."

The plan was thereupon worked out by which the Y. M. C. A. could furnish 4,000 papers to each of the cantonments; four of these papers to be supplied from the New York office to the co-operating publisher and the other four pages of camp news to be set up and all the press work done by the local newspapers the entire edition to be distributed through the Y. M. C. A. headquarters at the various camps.

Supported in the South.

"As soon as Mr. Adler made the suggestion and offered to do it for the Chattanooga Times," said Mr. Bryan, "I was satisfied that the whole undertaking would be a success. Without a single exception, the south came in and therefore opened the way for the rest of the country."

"With the exceptions of Waco and El Paso, Texas; Battle Creek, Mich.; Greenville and Spartanburg, S. C.; and Chillicothe, Ohio, the paper will be produced on time during the week of September 30."

"The fact that a man has put on a uniform does not make him any less human, he needs and will respond to the same influences that reached him in his civilian life, and the publishers of this country have been quick to perceive and ready to help in giving to the men in the camps the vital touch with a great movement to which America has now embarked."

The drill masters and the uniforms have a marvelous power for giving unity of purpose and action, but after all the greatest unifier is for all men to be filled with the same spirit and this is the opportunity for the written work.

Big Talent Enlisted.

"President Wilson has cordially endorsed the movement. Secretary Baker and Secretary Daniels have prepared articles for the papers; Col. Theodore Roosevelt will contribute to it, the best cartoonists, among whom may be mentioned James Montgomery Flagg, will draw for the papers; the best editorial talent of the country and the best posted men will give of their skill to make it a paper that will keep the Wisconsin men, who are to be camped in southern Texas, the New York and Pennsylvania men who are in camps in South Carolina and Georgia, and all the rest of our American soldiers in vital and active touch with their people at home and with the great heart of this nation."

"The people, and the leaders," said Mr. Bryan, "know that the speed with which this war will be won, is in direct ratio to the intensity and excitement of the spirit of the men who do the fighting and this national paper, printed under the auspices of the war work council of the Y. M. C. A., through the co-operation and assistance of the publishers named, will prove a powerful and effective means for the creation and development and focus of that spirit."

official statements the British activities are by no means as unimportant as they might seem and that all arms of the British service are being constantly employed in the process of wearing the German resistance. The German casualties for specific periods are not so readily available, but observers at the front calculate them as extremely heavy in the sort of fighting now in progress.

Berlin minimizes the damage done by British airplanes in their extensive raids last Sunday over German cities in Wurttemberg, Rhenish Prussia and Upper Alsace. It declares only one casualty occurred and that while at two places damage was done to buildings the attacks on half a dozen other towns resulted in no material damage, while three of the attacking airplanes were shot down.

News dispatches from Norway report the sinking of two German submarines, one of which is said to have been sent down by an armed American steamer and the other by a British torpedo boat. Half a dozen prisoners were secured from the two U-boats.

The Norwegian foreign office announces the destruction by German submarines of two Norwegian steamers aggregating nearly 8,000 tons.

team, or are having an enjoyable afternoon of entertainment at the theaters. Automobiles in large numbers are parked at the city market, which has been placed at the free disposal of visitors on suburban days only.

Express Approval.

Many of the visitors to Fort Wayne on this first suburban day expressed unfeigned surprise of the means adopted by the local merchants and others who are affiliated in the great get-together movement. With the oft-expressed wish that people of other cities and towns should patronize their home merchants to their full ability to meet the needs, Fort Wayne asks only to have the consideration of the outside people as a "second choice." The visitors understand this and see in it a desire on the part of the Fort Wayne merchants to play eminently fair with the men who are doing business in the nearby cities and towns. Many of the people who came today had their first introduction to some of the Fort Wayne stores. The glad welcome which awaited them was an immediate good impression which will mean much for the future weeks and months.

plan is new, but when things get into full swing, there will be a harmony of effort and a more complete understanding of conditions so that all will profit well therefrom. The men who are back of the movement—and this includes nearly one hundred of the city's leading institutions—are delighted with the success of the first day, and will enter with enthusiasm into the plans for next Wednesday.

Leave Over G. R. & I.

The quotas detailed from city districts Nos. 2 and 3 will leave early Friday morning over the G. R. & I. at 6:25 o'clock, and expect to reach Camp Taylor by the same evening.

Chairman Hugh G. Keegan, of the second district board, yesterday sent out the following notices to the men selected for service:

"You are instructed to take to camp the following articles:

"Three light cotton bath towels, khaki handkerchiefs, one or two extra suits of underwear, comb, tooth brush, tooth paste, soap in soap box, mirror, shaving kit and an extra pair of comfortable shoes.

"These articles should be taken in a small bundle or small hand bag.

"The Palace has invited the men of this quota to the matinee on Thursday afternoon and you will therefore report at this office at 1:30 p. m., on September 20, instead of 3 p. m.

"You will leave Fort Wayne at 6:25 a. m., Friday morning, on the G. R. & I. railroad.

"If you want to spend Thursday night at home you must fill out the pink card as heretofore advised."

tomorrow. Mr. Hurley had planned to leave late today.

Mr. Hurley and Samuel Gompers arranged another conference today on the problem.

NO SETTLEMENT IN SIGHT.

San Francisco, Sept. 19.—Both sides involved in the strike of 25,000 members of unions affiliated with the San Francisco iron trades council for a fifty per cent increase in wages marked time today awaiting the arrival of Edward H. Hurley, chairman of the United States shipping, and Wm. Blackmon, conciliator for the department of labor, who have been ordered here by the government in an effort to settle the controversy.

A prolonged conference between committees of workers and employers endeavoring to find a settlement base in the strike adjourned early today without productive results, according to A. S. Gunn, representing the employers' association. W. T. Boyce, acting government mediator, and Commander J. T. Ackerson, United States navy, attended the conference. According to Ackerson the new scale effective in government navy yards was not discussed as a basis for a settlement.

REACH AGREEMENT ON CREDITS BILL

Conferees Ready to Report the Eleven-Billion Dollar Measure.

Washington, Sept. 19.—Agreement on the war credits bill authorizing $11,533,000,000 of new bonds and certificates was reached today by senate and house conferees with no change in the issues proposed.

Adoption of the conference report tomorrow by the senate and by the house on Friday is planned.

Minor changes only were made by the conferees. They adopted the expense allowances of one-fifth of one per cent for the bonds and war-saving certificates as originally recommended by Secretary McAdoo and one-tenth of one per cent for the treasury certificates of indebtedness.

They eliminated Senator La Follette's amendment fixing the rate on the war-saving certificates at four per cent and retained the house provision giving the secretary of the treasury full authority to determine the rate which is expected to be slightly more than four per cent.

The bill authorizes $7,533,000,000 of new convertible 4 per cent bonds subject to income surtaxes and war excess profit taxes. Of these $4,000,000,000 are for new loans to the allies, the remainder to convert the 3 1/2 per cent liberty loan and to refund miscellaneous bond issues. Insurance of $2,000,000,000 of war-saving certificates and the same amount of short term treasury certificates of indebtedness also is provided.

AMERICAN SHIP ACCOUNTS FOR GERMAN U-BOAT

FAILURE OF FROST DOESN'T HALT CORN

Grain Opens With Rally on Board, But Advance is Not Maintained.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—Notwithstanding that frost which had been looked for failed to appear, the corn market today rallied soon from depression. Advances, however, were not well maintained. Opening prices, which ranged from 1/2c to 1/2c lower at $1.18 to $1.18 1/2c December and $1.15 to $1.15 1/2c May, were followed by a sharp upturn to well above yesterday's finish and then a fresh sag.

The close on corn was unsettled, 1/2c to 1/2c higher at $1.13 to $1.13 1/2c, and $1.15 1/2c to $1.16 May.

Oats took the same path as corn.

Wheat receipts in Chicago showed no material enlargement.

Requisitions for wheat to be furnished to mills continued to be much beyond what the food administrator's office here could fill.

Higher quotations on hogs tended to strengthen provisions.

BUYING MOVEMENT IN WALL STREET

Quick Upturn in Wall Street Causes a Flurry Among the Shorts.

New York, Sept. 18.—Vigorous bidding for stocks brought about a quick upturn at the opening today. The strength shown on the first transactions caused a flurry among the shorts, resulting in a rapid extension of gains in the first half hour.

The dominant influence in the market was the indication of easier conditions in money which encouraged more general buying by speculators. Much was heard as to the probability of an early announcement at Washington regarding steel and copper prices.

Liberty bonds sold at 99.98 to 100.

REDS ARE HERE FOR GAME WITH CENTRAL TEAM

Batteries for today's game: Cincinnati, Regan and Smith; for Fort Wayne, Cummings or Dietrich and DeVillbiss.

Sherwood Magee, outfielder on the Cincinnati National league baseball club, was taken ill in his room at the Anthony hotel Wednesday morning. Dr. Edelvich was called, but reported that the condition of Magee was not serious, but that it may keep him out of the game at League park.

The three Hoosier boys, all of them celebrities in the national pastime, were among the names on the roster of the Cincinnati club which arrived here early for the Fort Wayne game. They were Eddie Roush, leading National league batsman and former star Federal league player, whose home is at Oakland City; Griffith, star right fielder, whose home is at Lafayette, and Smith, catcher, a Fort Wayne product, who until recently played with the Fort Wayne Central league club.

Smith caught in the game between Cincinnati and Philadelphia at Cincinnati Tuesday and has been in the regular line-up of the Reds consistently since joining the club. Smith is rated as one of the best players turned out in this city and local fans are anxious to see him perform in fast company.

The Reds, headed by Christy Mathewson, were in prime condition for the game today. The members of the club who are in the city are: Hal Chase, Eddie Roush, Sherwood Magee, Griffith, Groh, Smith, Cuto, Keuther, Kopf, Regan, Christenberry and Carl Fluke, secretary of the club, and Hoskins, trainer.

The game was scheduled to start at 3:15 p. m. The line-up follows:

LOCAL BUYERS CAUSE OF WAR

Warsaw Cannery Promise Suit Because Fort Wayne Folks Are Too Active.

MANY TOMATOES HAVE BEEN BOUGHT

Farmers Have Best of Argument, According to the Court's Decision.

(Special to The Sentinel.)

Warsaw, Ind., Sept. 19.—A legal war is threatened against farmers near Warsaw, because of the activity of Fort Wayne people, who are coming to Warsaw in large numbers to purchase tomatoes.

The canning corporation of Crutshank Brothers has delivered an ultimatum to farmers of the Warsaw region declaring that court action will be brought unless the swains quit allowing Fort Wayne citizens to take away tomatoes which the company declares that it has contracted for.

Thirty-six bushels of tomatoes were brought to Warsaw by Fort Wayne people, early this week and were shipped to Fort Wayne Crutshank Brothers have been told.

It appears that the farmers have the best of the argument in the several legal cases involving the rights of the Reid, Murdoch and company, of Chicago, to claim all tomatoes raised by the aquarians of the Piercetion and Larwill region. The rights of Schuyler Menzie, one of the Piercetion farmers, to sell tomatoes to whomsoever he pleases, were sustained by the Kosciusko county court.

It was held that Menzie's contract was an executory agreement and that he had not been guilty of breaking his bond in selling tomatoes to people of Piercetion and Fort Wayne. Cases of other Piercetion and Larwill farmers, who have been legally attacked by the Chicago corporation, are similar to that of Menzie. It is thought that action in all cases will follow much the same course. Hearings on demursers of the farmers in the other cases will go on during the remainder of the week.

In the meantime the company of Reid, Murdoch, through their representatives, are pursuing their original plans, as outlined last week and are keeping close watch on the farmers who have contracted with them to supply their factory at Piercetion with tomatoes, and if others are caught, suits will be filed against them as has been done in the cases already before the courts.
